—CATTLEMEN BLAME IMPORTS— Silence Greets 'Other Factors'

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Omaha — A total of 2,400 Midwest livestockmen eager to take a verbal swing at beef imports attended the 16th annual National Livestock Conference Thursday at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum.

Cattlemen applauded when a speaker criticized imports and sat nearly silent as a number of speakers blamed other factors for depressed cattle prices.

Dr. Herrell DeGraff, of Chicago, president of the American Meat Institute, said in his address that cattle industry problems run both broader and deeper than beef imports.

DeGraff blamed heavier domestic marketings in 1963 after several years in which slaughter was less than current production as the major cause for cattle price declines.

Fearful
"This is precisely what happened in the early 1950's and as much as I do not like the conclusion, I am nevertheless fearful that we are about to see the patterns of the mid-1950's all over again," he said.

DeGraff said that a nearly 50% reduction in manufacturing beef furnished by American cattlemen between 1955 and 1963 caused the increase in imports.

Taking the producer's viewpoint, O. C. Swackhamer of Tarkio, Mo., past president of the National Livestock Feeders Association, called imports of red meat "the hottest and most debated question in the meat industry."

He expressed hope that legislation would eventually be passed to give relief from imported beef now totaling nearly 11% of U.S. production.

He said, "One of our problems is we are not selling enough old cows, but if the packer needs more manufacturing meat there is no law against using the entire dairy steer in manufacturing beef."

Price Pressure
Floyd A. Segel of Milwaukee, president of the Wisconsin Packing Co. and chairman of the National Independent Meat Packers Association, said, "I am not disturbed with cattle numbers. It's the price pressure when you have more than 10% added by imports at prices cheaper than we can produce that causes concern."

Dr. Lee Kolmer, Iowa State University extension economist, said increased numbers of cattle on feed with an average added weight of 19 pounds per head have put considerable pressure on the market.

Lyle Liggett, public relations director for the American National Cattlemen's Association at Denver, estimated that tariffs on imported beef would need to be increased 550% to do any good in slowing up the flow of imported beef now coming in under a three cents per pound duty.

Dr. Louis M. Smith, Jr., director of the Livestock and Meat Products Division of the Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service, said that while U.S. cattlemen have complained about the 3.7% growth factor allowed in the agreement with Australia, New Zealand and Ireland on imports after 1964, it was much better than the 40% increase in 1961 and 1962 and the 18% increase in 1963. "The agreement you have has slowed down this rapid increase and it is your privilege to argue that a further reduction is necessary," said Smith.

Speaking to the meeting by telephone from Washington, Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., said his amendment proposing a cut in meat imports is "the only recourse we have left." He spoke about an hour before the Senate defeated the amendment, 46 to 44.

Gov. Frank Morrison, who appeared before the assembly, complimented Hruska for his efforts but said the move should have been undertaken a year ago. The longer you permit heavy imports, he said, the harder it is to roll them back.

He said that in general, Americans enjoy more benefits than liabilities from international trade.

"But I feel the livestock industry is discriminated against," he added.

The State Supreme Court Thursday was asked to rule on the constitutionality of three retroactive penalty reduction interest bills enacted by the 1963 legislative session.

At issue, in an appeal action from the Hall County District Court, are LB16, LB17 and LB19.

The measures grew out of high court decisions holding unconstitutional the 1959 and 1963 installment sales acts.

Invalid contracts written under the acts were subjected to penalty provisions of the installment loan act, which void the contract and provide for loss of merchandise, principal and interest.

Loss of Interest Only
The three acts attempt to reduce the penalty to loss of interest only, and LB19 seeks to guarantee the validity of contracts written in compliance with an unconstitutional law.

All three measures were written by finance industry representatives.

MAC CUTS B70 PROGRAM

... But Says A11 May Help Work On Bomber

Washington (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara cut back the troubled B70 bomber program Thursday. But he indicated that breakthroughs achieved in developing the 2,000-mile-per-hour A11 may help get the B70 off the ground.

At the same time, the Senate approved a compromise $16.9 billion arms authorization bill that includes $52 million earmarked to start designing a new named bomber.

It acted shortly after House-Senate negotiators reached agreement on the bill. The House still must act.

At one of his rare Pentagon news conferences, McNamara gave a brief rundown on what is happening to the new look in U.S. manned aircraft in the 2,000-mile-an-hour class and up.

Difficulties
—The B70 bomber program has been cut from three planes to two because of "severe technical difficulties" and in order to save up to $80 million.

—The controversial TFX fighter plane program is "moving ahead very well" despite some problems "which we believe can be solved."

High Court Ruling Asked On Penalty-Cutting Interest Bills

By DON WALTON

Involves a suit filed by James A. and Joan B. Davis of Shelton against Kinnman Chevrolet-Cadillac, Inc., of Grand Island, and the General Motors Acceptance Corporation (GMAC).

The Davis couple has sought to cancel a contract on a truck, receive title to the vehicle, and recover money already paid under an $8,136.10 contract.

Hall County District Judge Donald H. Weaver ruled in the case last December, finding the retroactive bills to be constitutional.

"Not Voidable, But Void"

In arguments before an overflow crowd in the Supreme Court, Hall County Attorney Richard DeBacker of Grand Island—counsel for the Davis couple—contended that the transaction was "not voidable, but void."

According to previous high court rulings, he said, "this transaction was a nullity in January 1963, and it remains so."

Opposing counsel Clarence Davis of Lincoln and Charles Reed of Omaha argued that the Legislature did not violate constitutional provisions in enacting the retroactive bills.

Merchants who complied with provisions of the unconstitutional installment sales acts were, in effect, "entrapped by actions of the law," Davis said.

What the high court has seemed to say, he stated, was that "automatic compliance with the sales act constituted a loan."

Article 'Inflammatory'

Davis said that a Saturday Evening Post article on Nebraska's time-sales problems was "inflammatory... a libel on the Legislature and a libel on the people."

In suggesting that a number of other states face the same problems of constitutionality, Davis said, the article's author "signed his own certificate of incompetence."

Reed said the acts in question "can be sustained without the court disturbing one previous pronouncement."

GMAC has previously announced its intent to appeal the issue to the U.S. Supreme Court if the state tribunal tosses out the three bills.

son last Saturday, represents "a magnificent technical achievement." McNamara said heavy secrecy about the plane is necessary because "we want to preserve its benefits for our own use."

Way Behind
The first B70 was to have flown in December, 1962, but the program now is about 18 months behind schedule.

McNamara said fuel tank leaks have plagued the project for the last 12 to 18 months, and the builders ran into trouble trying to weld the plane's "steel-sandwich" wings to the fuselage.

He said the builders have been "exposed" to the A11 technology in efforts to solve the problems. The A11, however, uses titanium rather than steel to withstand the extremely high temperatures generated by speed three times or more than the speed of sound.

As for the A11, McNamara disclosed that it was hidden in the budget as an "IMI"—standing for improved manned interceptor—when the Air Force was asking for another $40 million to help develop it.

Complaints
President Johnson's announcement of the A11's existence caused some congressmen to complain that they had been made to appear ridiculous by arguing for more money to develop such a plane when it already existed. Only a few members of the House and Senate armed services committees knew of the A11 before Johnson's announcement.

The compromise arms authorization bill did not carry a $40 million item put in by the House for work on a new interceptor. Disclosure of the A11's existence made it unnecessary.

The extra $52 million for design of a new bomber, however, stayed in despite McNamara's contention that more studies were needed before steps are taken in developing such a plane. McNamara does not have to use the money, but the conference committee stipulated that he may not use it for anything other than such a bomber.

Republican members of the House negotiating team refused to sign the final agreement on the arms bill. They said the senators should have voted full restoration of $125 million for research and development that had been cut from the House bill by the Senate.

Slice In Imports Beaten

VICTORY FOR PRESIDENT

Washington (UPI)—The Senate handed President Johnson a foreign trade victory Thursday when it rejected a Republican amendment to the farm bill that would have restricted imports of beef and other meats.

Defeat of the amendment on a close 46 to 44 vote sharpened the hopes of Democratic leaders that final action on the controversial wheat-cotton farm bill would be reached Friday.

Disaster

Sponsors of the amendment to set quotas on imports of beef, veal, mutton and lamb argued they were needed to save the cattle industry from "disaster" which is already upon it.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., announced just before the vote on the amendment by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., that the Senate Finance Committee would hold hearings on the import proposal.

This had been the main point raised by opponents of Hruska's plan—that it lacked committee study, and should not be passed without such review. They also warned that adoption of the beef amendment would probably force a presidential veto since it would represent invasion of President Johnson's trade negotiating powers.

Mistake

"It's a mistake to mix up beef with wheat and cotton and Lord knows what else before we are through," Mansfield told the Senate.

The Hruska amendment would have limited meat imports to an average of the amounts received in this country over the five-year period ending in 1962. It was aimed at fresh, chilled or frozen meats.

It would have meant a 40% slash in the level provided in the administration's agreements with Australia, New Zealand and Ireland.

'Loss Of Bill'

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., told the Senate that adoption of the Hruska amendment could well mean "the loss of the farm bill altogether." He said Johnson "cannot veto one portion of a bill."

The administration opposes meat quota legislation on the ground it could bring retaliation by foreign countries against U.S. exports and hamper efforts to expand exports of U.S. farm products. Both Mansfield and McGovern have offered separate bills to reduce meat imports below the recent U.S. import agreement levels.

Sponsors of the two-part cotton and wheat bill hoped to shepherd it through Congress in time for it to play a part in spring crops.

Two Programs

The cotton section would set up two subsidy programs to reduce the price of domestic cotton to U.S. textile mills and to encourage growers to cut production.

The wheat section would set up a voluntary marketing certificate program coupled with high price supports to head off an estimated $600 million farm income loss because of overproduction this year.

McNAMARA... Viet Nam situation grave.

Premier Khanh Favors Offense

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Gen. Nguyen Khanh declared Thursday "the best defense is offense" but kept his own counsel on whether he wants military action against Communist North Viet Nam.

The question of some sort of action against North Viet Nam for actively aiding South Viet Nam's guerrillas has arisen in Saigon in connection with the arrival Sunday of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

McNamara and his top-level mission will dig into the reasons why the war against the guerrillas is going badly now. But Washington has cautioned against speculation concerning any retaliatory action in North Viet Nam or Red China, chief supporters of the Communist guerrillas.

Cautious

Khanh, whose armies rely upon U.S. arms and advisers, was equally cautious. In a statement distributed through the information ministry, he said:

"The escalation of the war to include North Viet Nam is a matter of the greatest importance, and therefore not one to which I can give a yes or no answer at this time." The statement said Khanh's regime has evidence that Red Chinese advisers are serving with the guerrillas, but there was no elaboration.

Critical

Khanh also had a critical word for the French, who have recognized Red China. The premier-strongman said President Charles de Gaulle's policy "favoring the neutralization of Viet Nam is extremely dangerous for our war of survival against the Communists."

An information ministry communiqué repeated, but in milder terms, Khanh's charge of a "colonialist and Communist plot" to overthrow his regime. Khanh had said Sunday that colonialists—meaning the French—and the Communists had offered a huge sum to have him assassinated.

Legislative Chamber Blast, New Fighting Rock Cyprus

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP)—A bomb blew up under the Turkish Cypriot legislative chamber Thursday and new communal fighting broke out on the north coast. The renewed violence lent urgency to United Nations efforts to form a peace force and speed it to Cyprus.

Both the Greek Cypriot majority and the Turkish Cypriot minority welcomed the U.N. decision to send a mediator and an international peace force to Cyprus. But they were sharply divided over whether the decision would end Turkey's treaty rights to intervene on Cyprus.

The U.N. decision had a calming effect in Greece, which backs the Greek Cypriots. Anti-U.N. demonstrations tapered off after a week. Despite Washington denials, most Greeks accuse the United States of siding with Turkey.

Accuse Greeks
Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish Cypriot leader, accused Greek Cypriots of placing the time bomb under the communal chamber, the separate legislative body permitted the minority under the constitution that accompanied independence in 1962.

"I am sure the Greeks did it," Kuchuk said as he looked at the wreckage.

Interior Minister Polycarpus Georgadjis, a Greek Cypriot, said it would be impossible for a Greek Cypriot to slip past the strong guards into the Turkish Cypriot quarter of Nicosia to plant the time bomb.

Work Of Turks
Georgadjis asserted the bomb was the work of Turkish Cypriots who "don't approve of the policies pursued by the Greeks."

sued by the Turkish Cypriot leadership. The renewed fighting erupted at the north coast port of Kyrenia, scene of clashes the day before. Each side accused the other of starting the fighting.

The fighting swirled through three villages overlooking Kyrenia. A Greek Cypriot shepherd was reported killed before British truce forces arranged a cease-fire at sundown.

Nebraskans Injured As Bus Plunges Into Ditch

Seneca, Kan. (AP)—A chartered bus carrying a group of Nebraska farmers and their wives plunged into a ditch and hit a dirt bank Thursday night, injuring most of the 37 persons aboard, none critically. Thirteen were hospitalized.

The group was returning to their homes in York County, Neb., from a two-day tour of Consumer Cooperative Association plants at Lawrence, Kan., and Kansas City.

Hospital attendants said the person apparently injured the most seriously was Mrs. Herbert Opfer of Bradshaw, who suffered a compound leg fracture.

Remaining overnight in a Seneca Hospital, according to the sheriff's office, were Mr. and Mrs. Ora Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Romsdal, all of York; Mrs. Herbert Heine, Mrs. Ernie Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Klute, all of Bradshaw, in addition to Mrs. Opfer.

The other passengers took another bus back to Nebraska. Kansas officials told The Star early Friday morning.

The bus driver, G. O. Dewey of Hastings, said a front tire blew out about six miles east of Seneca on U.S. 36 and he couldn't keep the bus on the road.

Six ambulances were sent to the scene—four from Seneca and two from Sabetha. In addition, some of the bus passengers were taken to the Seneca Hospital in private automobiles.

A similar accident befell a group of Iowa farmers near Princeton, Mo., recently as they were returning from the same type of Consumer Cooperative tour. Their bus skidded into a ditch, injuring 19 persons.

-RED AID UP?-

Mac To Look At Evidence

Washington (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was en route to South Viet Nam today to take a close look at what he described as evidence of stepped-up northern support for the Communist guerrillas attacking that country.

McNamara's plane left nearby Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland at 12:20 a.m. CST with its first stop Hickam Field in Hawaii.

Before taking off on a fact-finding mission for President Johnson, the defense chief told a news conference that new and heavier weapons "obviously of Chinese manufacture" have been appearing in the hands of the Red forces.

"There has been evidence that in the last six months North Vietnamese support of the Communist Viet Cong has increased," he said.

He mentioned heavy duty machine guns, more sophisticated mines, and 75-mm. recoilless artillery as among the Chinese-made weapons that have been introduced against the U.S.-backed South Vietnamese forces.

McNamara termed the situation in Viet Nam grave, but declined to discuss suggestions advanced in some quarters that the South Vietnamese, and possibly their American supporters, should carry the war to Communist Viet Nam.

Among other things he said he and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and other experts will look over plans of the new South Vietnamese government for more aggressive military measures against the Red guerrillas. These include night operations.

In a Pentagon statement, McNamara said the purpose of his trip is to discuss with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Gen. Paul D. Harkins, the U.S. commander, and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the new premier, "the effectiveness of United States training and logistic support" for the anti-Communist effort.

U.S. Opens Reactor To International Inspection

Geneva (AP)—The United States announced Thursday that one of its largest nuclear power reactors will be placed under permanent international inspection in a move designed to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

U.S. delegate Adrian S. Fisher told the 17-nation disarmament conference the United States has invited the International Atomic Energy Agency to place an inspection group in the Yankee Atomic Electric Company's $57 million power plant at Rowe, Mass.

Fisher said the action was meant as a pilot project to encourage other countries—particularly the Soviet Union—to submit to agency inspection of their nonmilitary reactors.

Agreed System

The inspection will be carried out in accordance with an agreed system intended to guard against clandestine production of atom bomb materials in reactors intended for peaceful uses.

Fisher also suggested that all nations should place their shipments of peaceful nuclear materials and equipment under agency supervision for the same purpose. American transfers of fissionable materials to other countries in any case will be brought under agency surveillance "as rapidly as practicable," he said.

He stressed that the United States will go ahead with the action at the Yankee plant regardless of whether the Soviet Union allows the agency to inspect a similar Soviet reactor. But he said other plants in the United States would be opened to inspection if the Soviet Union joins in the program on a reciprocal basis.

Shrugged Off

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin shrugged off the whole idea, however, and implied that the Russians viewed it with the same suspicion that they have expressed toward all other Western arms control proposals containing inspection procedures.

"What kind of control does this mean?" Tsarapkin asked newsmen after the conference session. "Control over our nuclear industry? You know this is a very difficult subject. We are very sensitive about controls."

British delegate Sir Paul Mason and Brazil's Josue de Castro warmly approved Fisher's statement.

Not Discouraged

American officials did not seem discouraged by Tsarapkin's cool initial response. They said the Russians are as eager as the United States to prevent peaceful nuclear reactors supplied to their allies from being misused for military purposes.

MacArthur Will Have Exploratory Operation

Washington (AP)—The old warrior Gen. Douglas MacArthur will undergo Friday morning an "exploratory operation" to determine the cause of an obstruction in his biliary tract system.

And the top surgeon in the case, Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, surgeon general of the Army, said cancer could not be ruled out as a possibility—especially in a patient as old as the 84-year-old hero of two world wars.

The biliary tract is a system of ducts carrying bile—a fluid needed for digestion—from both the gall bladder and the liver. A blockage or constriction within the system of channels—or even in small channels within the liver feeding into it—can cause a backing up of bile into the blood stream. This results in a yellowing of the skin and body fluids called jaundice.

Jaundiced

MacArthur had been exhibiting moderately severe jaundice for several months before he entered Walter Reed Army Hospital on Monday for "observation and evaluation of abdominal complaints."

Since Monday, MacArthur has been undergoing diagnostic tests. Thursday morning the hospital announced it has been determined that he is suffering from "obstructive jaundice of unknown origin."

One of the various ailments which could cause such a condition is a blockage—by a gallstone—of the common bile duct which receives bile from ducts coming from both the gall bladder and the liver, and then feeds it into the small intestine.

Hope And Pray

"We hope and pray," Heaton told a reporter, "it's a blockage of the common bile duct due to a gallstone." He explained that removal of such a stone, and the gall

Dallas Police Officer Quotes Ruby—"Somebody Had To..."

... 'INTENDED TO SHOOT HIM THREE TIMES'

Dallas (AP)—Jack Ruby was quoted at his murder trial Thursday as saying he marked Lee Harvey Oswald for death with three bullets because "somebody had to do it."

"I intended to shoot him three times," a police officer said Ruby told him after a single shot last Nov. 24 cut down Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

"That's the most damaging thing you've said," chief defense attorney Melvin Belli told the young, crop-haired police officer, T. D. McMillon, who turned out to be the star state witness thus far in the 16-day trial.

'Low Life'

"Of all the low life scum things—why did you do it?" McMillon quoted another officer as asking the 52-year-old Ruby after the killing. Ruby was quoted in reply: "Somebody had to do it. Somebody had to take care of it. You guys couldn't do it."

Ruby, operator of a Dallas strip tease joint, is on trial for his life for the slaying of Oswald. The defense is pleading innocent by reason of temporary insanity.

Blackout

The state claims Ruby cold-bloodedly killed Oswald with an as yet unstated motive. The defense said Ruby was in a blackout at the time and didn't plan the murder nor even know he was committing it.

Belli subjected McMillon to a rigorous two-hour cross-examination. He succeeded in confusing the young officer at times on the sequence of events just after Oswald's slaying. But McMillon stood by his basic story.

Belli did manage to get into the record a police statement in which Ruby was quoted as saying: "I couldn't have planned this thing. I couldn't have timed it so perfect. I just got there as Oswald happened to be coming out."

Shaking Head

McMillon left the witness stand shaking his head, either in relief or in disbelief at the extent of his cross-examination. The trial then was recessed until Friday.

As reconstructed in Friday's testimony by Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade's police witnesses, Ruby lunged from a crowd at police headquarters during a routine jail transfer of Oswald and cried, "You rat S.O.B., you shot the President."

Another police officer said that after the shooting he told Ruby: "I think you killed him."

Moved Too Fast

"I intended to shoot him three times," Ruby was quoted in reply, "but you guys moved too fast for me and prevented me from getting off but one shot."

Obviously shaken by the police testimony, Belli and his associates vainly sought the right to match the testimony against written statements made by the officers to their superior after the shooting. They openly implied the officers said one thing in the statements and another thing from the witness stand after coaching by the district attorney's office.

The defense also sought to plant in the minds of the four women and eight men on the jury the suggestion that the officers remembered only what they chose to remember, and that Ruby's remarks could have been mere automatic answers to questions rather than rationally volunteered statements.

The trial began Feb. 17.

Disarmed Him

One of Friday's witnesses, L. C. Graves, a husky, dark-haired Dallas detective, told of disarming Ruby immediately after the shooting, which network television carried into countless American homes. Graves was the man on Oswald's left at the time.

Graves said that as Ruby was forced to the ground by various officers, including himself, the defendant was trying to wrest his gun hand free.

Q. Was he squeezing the trigger?

A. Yes, he was.

Graves testified there were five live bullets still left in Ruby's .38 caliber pistol when he was disarmed after the shooting. They were placed in evidence as state exhibits, as the gun had been previously.

Hoffa Not Likely To Lose Position

Washington (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's jury tampering conviction apparently won't topple him from office under a federal law barring high union posts to anyone convicted of bribery.

Informed sources said Thursday it is highly unlikely that the Justice Department will press for Hoffa's removal from his union office under the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The reason is not any feeling of leniency by government lawyers who, after five indictments and many years of trying, won a conviction of Hoffa at Chattanooga, Tenn., Wednesday.

Difficult

The reason is that the government feels it would be difficult to convince a court that jury tampering is equivalent to bribery.

However, one of the authors of the Landrum-Griffin Law, Rep. Phil M. Landrum, D-Ga., commented: "I don't know any other way of tampering with a jury except to offer a bribe."

But Landrum said he didn't want to comment on whether the law could be used to remove Hoffa from the presidency of the Teamsters, the world's biggest union with 1.7 million members.

Wouldn't Say

"I would not want to say how the courts would interpret a specific crime" under the act, Landrum said.

"But as a country lawyer," he added, "it seems to me that tampering with a jury means offering a bribe."

The labor law Landrum helped write bars union office to anyone convicted of the specific crimes of robbery, bribery, extortion, embezzlement, grand larceny, burglary, arson, violation of narcotics laws, murder, rape, assault with intent to kill, assault which inflicts grievous bodily injury, or conspiracy to commit any such crimes.

It does not specify jury tampering.

No Comment

The Justice Department declined any comment on how it interprets the bribery provision of the law in relation to Hoffa's jury tampering conviction. The department is headed by a Hoffa foe of long standing, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

It was learned that federal prosecutors were extremely doubtful that an attempt to apply it to Hoffa's case would stand up in court.

Even if any such attempt were made by the government, it would have to wait until Hoffa had exhausted all appeals. The Landrum-Griffin Act provides for ousting a convicted union official only after "the final sustaining of such judgment on appeal."

Intends To Appeal

Hoffa has already announced his intention to appeal, a process that could be drawn out for several years.

And the tough little 51-year-old labor leader said he has no intention of stepping down from the presidency of the independent Teamsters.

Hoffa's jury tampering trial grew out of a previous case in which he was charged with accepting illegal payments from a trucking firm. He also faces trial in Chicago next month on a charge of illegally misusing $20 million in pension funds of his union's members.

No Need Seen To Update '61 Downtown Plan

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The basic concepts of Lincoln's 1961 downtown development plan are still sound and no changes are recommended, the plan's consultant said Thursday in Lincoln.

Ted Aschman of Barton Aschman & Associates, Evanston, Ill., said the "Lincoln center plan — A more apt name than downtown development — pulls together all functions of the city center: government, education, cultural, finance and commerce, professions and retail shopping."

"Downtown Lincoln is for all the people and the plan contains this basic concept."

Reviewing the 1961 plan with governmental, civic and business leaders, Aschman made these points:

—Location of the city-county building at 15th and O would serve a number of purposes other than governmental.

Regional Center
—O Street between 14th and 10th should serve as the regional shopping center with de-emphasis of through traffic.

—N and P would be one-way pairs to re-route through traffic out of the core area and supplement two-way Q. The one-way pairs of 16th and 17th, K and L, and 9th and 10th as perimeter arterials.

—University of Nebraska campus expansion to Q should be encouraged.

—15th between the State Capitol and the NU campus should become the city's governmental and civic-use corridor.

Not Sacred
Aschman said the 15th and O site for the city-county building is a "great opportunity for Lincoln's development, but is not sacred."

"We feel strongly about the 15th and O concept, but it should not become a disruptive force over the basic plan."

He listed these reasons for the site:

—A building straddling O would anchor the eastern edge of the city center and beautify the city's eastern approach, which otherwise is not the best.

—The site is more logically located to other governmental and related buildings in the city.

—Symbolic and functional ties between the Capitol building and the University and the whole city center.

Aschman said the site was admittedly more expensive than others, but urged other advantages and the long-range view should be seriously considered.

Aschman said several downtown changes have occurred since the 1961 plan was prepared but have "generally been within the framework of the plan."

He said 300 or 400 new parking spaces have been added to the city's 1961 total of 8,774, but said 1,000 new customer and 1,000 new employee spaces will be needed by 1980.

Special Zoning
He also urged that special zoning districts within the downtown center be considered to compact and interrelate its functions. These special classifications would be (1) retail-office district, (2) 15th St. governmental and special purpose district, (3) business services district and (4) downtown apartment district.

L. A. Enersen, a Lincoln architect, outlined University campus expansion plans for some 24,000 students in the not-too-distant future and its relationship to the downtown plan.

Mayor Dean Petersen, who called the special meeting attended by 100 or more persons, said the plan is "not just for a downtown group, but for the whole city and state."

"Maybe we're not hurting enough in enough places to make us want to do something," he said. "But if we do nothing, we are contributing to deterioration of Lincoln as a fine city in which to live."

Pressing Problems
He listed pressing city problems as streets and city growth, low-cost housing, the City-Consumers Public Power District struggle, and the downtown plan.

The mayor indicated he would actively lead an effort to implement the Lincoln center plan, which has been virtually dormant since its drafting.

Ex-smokers filled the Nebraska Center auditorium to capacity Thursday night, the final night of the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking program.

Only it's not the final night. A sixth meeting is scheduled for Monday at 8:15 p.m. for those ex-smokers who feel they need an additional boost to rise above the weed.

Dr. Alfred O. Mazat, a Denver physician and co-moderator of the program, told the new non-smokers to watch their weight. He advised eating a hearty breakfast and lunch but cautioned that supper should be meager.

Cut Down
"If you feel you are gaining weight, cut down on your caloric intake. Don't eat or drink anything except water between meals," he warned.

E. J. Folkenberg, one of the founders of the program, said the habit is not broken until the habit not to smoke is as great as the habit to smoke. The greatest problem lies in the future, any discouragement or small event can return one to the smoking habit, he said.

Second Program Set
A second Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking program has been set for March 22-26, Paul DeBooy, local coordinator for the program, announced at the meeting. He said a meeting place has not been decided upon.

Thursday's attendance was 350, about the same as the previous four nights.

Ak-Sar-Ben Will Welcome Tax Status Study—Jacobson

Omaha (UPI) —The president of Ak-Sar-Ben, A. F. Jacobson, said Thursday the civic organization will welcome a study of its tax-exempt status by the Douglas County commissioners to verify compliance with state laws.

Earlier this week, Douglas County Assessor Joseph Stojinski recommended to the commissioners that some of the group's activities should not be classified as tax-exempt.

"Ak-Sar-Ben is a non-profit agricultural society, as it must be under the law in order to conduct racing in Nebraska, and all of the proceeds must be used for agricultural, charitable or educational purposes," Jacobson said.

He added that it should be pointed out Ak-Sar-Ben paid $903,357 into the general tax fund of the state last year, in addition to performing a number of civic projects.

Jacobson said all ice activities at Ak-Sar-Ben are sponsored by the 4-H Foundation, but have been subsidized by Ak-Sar-Ben at a cost of several thousands of dollars each year.

He said Ak-Sar-Ben would be glad to cease all public skating, ice hockey, midge and amateur hockey and curling at its coliseum if this is not in keeping with the statutes regarding tax-exempt status.

Should there ever be any profits derived from any ice activities, they would go to the 4-H Foundation and be used exclusively for youth agricultural projects, he said.

"We have properly applied to the Douglas County officials for our exemption," Jacobson continued. "As far as we are concerned, the only change in the state law has been the requirement for

SOVIET LURES PENSIONERS TO GET JOBS

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet government Thursday announced a plan for encouraging old age pensioners to go back to work — especially in mines and on farms.

An announcement on the front page of the government newspaper Izvestia said the Cabinet has ruled that a pensioner who gets a job will be allowed to collect not only a regular wage, but also half his pension.

If he goes to work in a mine or on a farm he will be able to receive regular wages — plus his full pension.

Beatles Go To Oxford

Oxford, England (AP) —The Beatles went to Oxford Thursday and the staid old university took them in its stride.

They dined at Brasenose College, and all was quiet in the quadrangles until a few teen-age girls wandered in.

The quartet had been invited to Oxford for a thank-you-dinner for their efforts in the last year's pre-Christmas drive by the Oxford Committee for Famine Relief (Oxfam).

The Beatles had drinks at Vincent's, the university sportsmen's club, and then were driven to Brasenose where they had dinner with the principal, Sir Noel Hall. The teen-age girls got wind of their presence, but the Beatles slipped out after dinner by a side door.

Billie Sol's Buddy Died Accidentally

Amarillo, Tex. (UPI) — A coronor's jury ruled Thursday that Harold E. Orr, a convicted associate of Billie Sol Estes, died accidentally in his fume-filled garage.

The death of the 33-year-old businessman just two days before he was to have surrendered himself to serve a 10-year prison sentence was attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Orr was convicted of fraud and conspiracy after he pleaded guilty in federal court. Estes, the bankrupt West Texas farm financier, pleaded innocent to the charges and stood trial.

He was convicted and sentenced to 15 years imprisonment. Estes is free on bond pending his appeal.

Two other Estes associates who pleaded guilty along with Orr to similar charges entered prison Tuesday. They are Ruel Alexander, 38, of Amarillo, and Coleman D. McSpadden, 46, of Lubbock, Tex.

Power Struggle Goes On

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

On and on goes the battle between the city of Lincoln and Consumers Public Power District and the victor is nowhere in sight. Lincoln thought it had the battle won when it secured passage in the Legislature of a bill directing that Consumers and the city enter into appropriate agreements for the city's operation of the Consumers distribution system in Lincoln.

There was only one thing basically wrong with the city's position—it was founded in power politics and that is about as shaky a foundation as there could be. Consumers, too, is a pro when it comes to power politics but in the case of Lincoln, it has one additional ace in the hole. It is widely believed that the people of Lincoln at this moment prefer Consumers to the city. Thus, Consumers has the public on its side and that is what counts when all is said and done. Lincoln realizes this and has been trying to figure one dodge after another for getting around it, for avoiding a public vote on the power question, but it is having a hard time getting the job done.

In the last regular session of the Legislature, the city had an opportunity to work with Consumers and seek power laws that would be satisfactory to all concerned but Lincoln turned down this opportunity. By the time it faced the choice, it had Consumers beat and was not going to settle for a compromise when it could take the whole hog.

Well, the city now has what it wanted—a victory out of the Legislature and no answer to its power problems. At this time, the city appears to be dedicated to further pursuit of this same objective. As we see the situation, Lincoln is rapidly digging its own grave.

The city has taken up the battle against Consumers and is lambasting that organization for failure to go along with the forced merger bill of the 1963 session of the Legislature. The handwriting on the wall points to no agreement between now and the 1965 meeting of senators. At this 1965 meeting we will have another knock-down-and-drag-out which the city may or may not win. It may assume that it will win in 1965 but this is a dangerous assumption. Nothing much will be the same in 1965 as it was in 1963 and nothing can be taken for granted by way of legislation. Even if the city does win in the Legislature, will it be any better off than it is today, after having won in 1963?

And as this kind of battle goes on, the years go by and we get closer and closer to 1972—the year of decision. That is the year that Consumers is required by law to turn over to Lincoln for consideration of $1 all its distribution system within the municipality. There is one big "if" in that proposition, however. The people must vote to take that system for the $1 cash price. Now, the $1 is not likely to be much of a factor one way or another but other things will be a factor. The people of Lincoln are not very concerned over the name behind the electric distribution system that serves them.

The people don't care much if the name is City of Lincoln, Consumers Public Power District or anything else. What they do care about are such things as rates and service. If in 1972 the people believe that Consumers is more to be relied upon than the city for good rates and service, then they will vote against the city's taking over the Consumers system.

Lincoln is laying the groundwork for a smashing Consumers' victory at the polls in 1972, or before that, should the issue be forced prematurely by illative or referendum action from the public. It is hard to put your finger on but until the city of Lincoln recognizes its dependence upon the people and acts accordingly in its power relations with Consumers, it doesn't have a chance.

Consumers has said it intends to comply fully with the law in 1972 in regard to turning over its distribution system to Lincoln and other cities across the state so situated. But Lincoln had better not think this means it has nothing to lose since it is bound to get everything in 1972, anyway. Consumers can comply with the law while knocking the city's ears down at the polls. What should Lincoln be doing? It should stop its fighting, it should stop destroying whatever image it has in the power field, it should give up its greed, it should seek an accommodation with Consumers rather than a total victory.

If, in the final analysis, Lincoln's case is one that cannot stand a public decision, then it is a case the city should not win. If a first-class battle is eventually the only alternative, then the city should be in the position of Consumers having struck the first blow.

The New Airplane

The nation was naturally stirred recently when President Johnson announced the successful building of a sophisticated airplane that can fly 2,000 miles per hour.

It was reassuring testimony in behalf of the nation's scientific ability and comforting in that the plane appeared to be better than anything produced by rival powers. While first thought was given to the plane's role in national security, its existence speaks realistically of a new era in commercial flying. It makes all of the world just next door.

This is all on the plus side. But there is another side.

It was hardly a year ago that the national capital was resounding with an acrimonious controversy over the size of appropriations for the development of such a plane. There was an issue between manned bombers and missiles and arguments over which industry should be given the right and the money to develop such a plane. The general impression gained was that many problems of a technical nature still needed solving and that political favor was weighing heavily in the whole program.

Now the plane is in the air and is flying successfully. It is obvious that many of the technical problems had already been solved at the time of the dispute. The public which followed that dispute and attempted to exercise its judgment, to draw sides, finds it was chasing a will-o-the-wisp. This is an indictment of our elected representatives, many of whom approached the dispute obliquely, who misled the public far more than they informed it.

They are to be warned that a realistic and dependable public opinion can only result from its factual communication with public questions. This can only be when the representatives deal candidly with facts and base their public expressions on the essence of the question.

Good Time To Start

The mosquitoes may and the people may not think this is a good time to get a program under way for control of the stinging insects. From the mosquitoes' point of view and that of the people, there is none of the insects around right now to inflict themselves upon the population. Thus, the mosquito need not worry and the people may say it's ridiculous.

Such, however, is not the case as the insects will be with us before you know it. Already we are well into March and some hot weather could be coming at any time now. It is not too early for the City-County Health Department to get organized and ready to proceed with a plan of control for the coming summer heat.

The Lincoln area is not so well armed against the mosquito that it can rest on any of its laurels. It has some laurels in the form of mosquito-breeding areas that have been eliminated as a result of efforts by the City-County Health Department. It can also boast of a valuable surveillance program and a plan of chemical control over the hatching of the mosquito larvae.

Lincoln, however, has not used the mosquito control district approach nor availed itself of the legal power it has to force the correction on private land of insect-breeding places. Thus, there will be some mosquitoes this year but how many will depend upon nature, the work that has been done in the past and the merits of this year's control program.

The health department is correct in attempting to get an early start. Such a start may bring about the removal yet this season of still more breeding places and will allow for preventive action against the first mosquito hatch of the season.

Stamp Plan Jeopardized

Item 1 on President Johnson's anti-poverty program has struck a snag.

The administration offered Congress a proposal for a new food stamp law.

The House Agriculture Committee approved it by a narrow 18 to 16 vote, but not until it scaled down the dimensions markedly and injected a condition that may have a near fatal effect.

The food stamp plan was inaugurated by the Kennedy administration to facilitate the distribution of food in regions where there is economic distress. It did away with the former cumbersome programs, cut out a lot of red tape and provided for the issuance of federal stamps in proven cases of need. The stamps were negotiable at any store for specified items of basic food. The government redeemed the stamps as they were presented by the store operator.

The plan proved popular. It gave the customer a shopping choice. It stimulated private business, adding substance to the local economy, and contributed obliquely to the increase in private employment.

Now a scaled down instead of a scaled up law suggests less of a war on poverty than a greater one. The committee also supported a condition requiring the state to share half the cost with the federal government. Since depressed conditions prevail in the regions where the plan is most heavily used the requirement of local cost sharing operates against the plan. States have been noticeably reluctant to help finance food for the poor. Even states willing to take on the load could run into a period of no program, pending legislative sessions to make the needed appropriations.

It would appear from this first engagement against poverty the Congress is preparing for a retreat.

Franco Fair-Haired Boy In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON—State Department officials don't like to talk about it, but the economic help which fascist Spain gives to communist Cuba is the most important coming from any western country. It consists of the following:

1. Regular flights by Iberia Airlines from Madrid to Havana. This is the route taken by the American students who were enticed into Cuba by Castro. The only way they could get there was to fly to Spain, then back to Havana.

2. A Spanish shipping line also goes to Cuba.

3. Franco is now giving large credits to Castro. This is something no other country grants to any extent, except Russia.

4. Franco has been taking Cuban sugar in exchange for the construction of fishing boats for Castro.

The argument used by the Spanish government is that this link with Cuba is necessary in order to keep up Spanish ties with Latin America.

With most of Latin America, however, Franco has no real ties. On the contrary, his name is a bad word. After President Eisenhower visited Franco in 1959 Latin American communists circulated propaganda postcards showing a chummy photo of Franco and Hitler together, and on the other side a chummy photo of Eisenhower and Franco together.

Yet today the man who was excoriated by Latin American communists is helping to keep alive the only communist country in Latin America—and the State Department is going to continue American aid to the tune of $30,000,000 a year.

The State Department's excuse is military necessity—despite the following factors:

A—Last summer when Under Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric flew to Madrid to discuss renewal of U.S. military bases, he made it clear that these bases were not essential to the United States. They are bomber bases, not missile bases, and the bomber, according to Secretary of Defense McNamara, is becoming outmoded by long-range missiles. The entire emphasis of the Defense Department is to shift from bombers to missiles.

B—The Navy wants a base at Roto, Spain, for Polaris subs. However, it has already spent considerable money on a Polaris base at Holy Loch, Scotland, in waters nearer Russia. If a base is needed in the Mediterranean, one in Turkey would be just as good.

C—Sen. Dick Russell, D-Ga., powerful chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and a close friend of President Johnson's, has described Franco's position on U.S. bases as blackmail.

D—Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., once forced an admission from the Agriculture Department that the cotton we sent Spain free, under the foreign aid program, was then sold by the Spanish government for twice the American price.

However, the Spanish lobby, the most powerful foreign lobby in Washington, has eulogized the Johnson administration into continuing $30,000,000 for Spain while Franco continues thumbing his nose at the United States by helping Castro.

Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

By CHARLES PHELPS TAFT

Attorney, Civil Official

"Love," like so many words, has worn smooth and lost meaning. Even St. Paul had to give it content by his essay to the Corinthians.

"Love" was, in the Greek of the New Testament, an invented word. The Christians could not use "Eros," with all its implications of sex. Plato used Eros to mean the self-appreciation that leads a man to self-betterment, in the Horatio Alger tradition, by his own efforts. That concept was not Christian either, though it amusingly resembles what Tawney wrote about.

So the Christians invented a word for love in our Christian sense—Agape. It is Agape that is "long suffering," and "kind," to St. Paul.

But the idea still eludes us. When I was asked to join a magazine panel dialogue two years ago called "What Is Virtue," I had to think this out. Here is my interpretation of it.

Love of neighbor is affectionate, perceptive concern for him and all others.

"Affectionate" goes even for one you don't like, a kind of standing aside to see him and yourself, with a little amusement, and a feeling that perhaps it's just as well for you to have the old bum or this nasty annoyance around as a stimulant.

"Perceptive" is the most essential part. Love has to put you inside the other person, to feel his reactions, and understand why he acts as he does.

"Concern" is not assertive, but is unwilling to accept a condition the other suffers, without trying to do something about it.

But this "Love" can be soft and sentimental, so that a necessary addition to it is toughness, the endurance of fortitude of the Romans. Jesus in the Lord's Prayer was tough: No forgiveness of our trespasses except as we forgive. Our choices at a crisis may be limited; a decision either way, may hurt someone.

Love cannot be just quietness. Often it must speak out. The Puritan conscience is something we need in organizations, and in the democratic process. Labor unions, trade associations, and civic organizations die of dry rot when members sit on their hands and don't speak up in the discussion, or worse, don't even come to meetings.

Yet this has a limit, too; the Puritan can be arrogant. Above all love must be humble, with a listening ear for the possibility that God may be speaking through some one else, some one unimportant, or annoying or young, or boring. Some contribution may come to the common good from unexpected places.

Love as we think of it in my text is shown in the Samaritan or the Prodigal Son. B need it today, as we a time of change, and of organizations. On can keep us serene shattering upsets Christian love can be riant that makes of whelmingly organized work smoothly.

Outspoken Barry

Nelson, Neb.

Congratulations on a fine paper. Someone left the February 28 issue in the laundromat and I read with amused interest the editorial, "You Can't Have It Both Ways," on Senator Barry Goldwater.

Psychologists tell us that disinhibition makes for a wholesome, relaxed personality and Barry should be these things. He sounds off constantly. Why doesn't Mrs. G. call his attention to his irrationalities?

Disinhibition, frankness, is also supposed to make for honesty, and thus fairness. The senator may be honest by his own standards, but really he should be approached on television on the untenability of his position to turn the great TVA over to private interests and helping himself to federal funds for hydro improvements in Arizona. The public should see and hear this public servant side-step such obvious imbalance.

The letters from Star readers also make good reading. I especially enjoyed the paragraphs by a native New Zealander, "Ex-Kiwi." It was news to me that the USA is importing meat from New Zealand and Australia. I thought it came from South America. South American meat should be kept there. There is unbelievable poverty and the natives should consume it. It is better for the USA to subsidize South American school lunchrooms than to send our people there to show them how to live. All the poor need anywhere is the means to a living. "Ex-Kiwi" nails the reason for the high cost of meat here—the middleman.

I appreciate your concern over such an important issue as the apportionment litigation pending before the U.S. District Court in Nebraska. However, I disagree with your assertion that the image of the court has been impaired by its delay in rendering a final disposition of the matter.

On the contrary, the consensus of opinion by observers throughout country that hasly ac such a delicate political legal problem could the traditional syst checks and balances b the two powers of g ment involved, legi and judicial. Further there were no specif portionment guidelines by the United States preme Court in the lan decision of Baker vs. only vague reference cases decided unde equal protection cla the 14th Amendment or subject matter, not tionment of state legis

In view of some of the plex constitutional pro created by prematur cisions in other jurisdi I feel your remarks slightly off the target.

Interest Law Called Class Legislation

Attorneys for three Lincoln industrial credit firms Thursday asserted LB11, the new comprehensive interest rate law, is class legislation.

The declaration was made in a brief filed with the Nebraska Supreme Court in the test case of the law, which was passed by the special session of the Legislature. The brief said:

"It would seem quite obvious that LB11 is an attempt to legalize a special rate of interest for a special class of lenders. This is a direct violation of the constitutional prohibition against the passage of special laws regulating the rate of interest."

The law, in substance, establishes:

—A general usury limit of nine per cent on conventional loans.

New Structure

—A new installment loan

(including time-sales) structure with a maximum interest rate of 12%.

—A small loan act which allows a maximum interest charge of 30% on the first $300, 24% on the next $200 and 12% on the next $1,000 with a $1,500 limitation imposed.

Seeking to have the law declared unconstitutional in a declaratory judgment suit are the State Securities Co., the Commonwealth Co. and the Mutual Savings Co. State Banking Director Henry Ley is named as defendant in the action.

The brief argued that the section of the bill providing for a general nine per cent rate on all types of conventional loans gives a special privilege to a certain class.

The brief also said the law violates the due process and guarantee of equal protection clauses of the state constitution by setting different penalties under the act.

"LB11 did not simply add a penalty and make it applicable to a reasonably selected class but on the contrary, LB11 is an attempt to legalize a special interest rate," the brief said.

In essence, the brief said,

"LB11 is nothing but an attempt to grant a certain class of lenders the right to take a higher rate of interest than is granted by law to other types of lenders. It is exactly what the constitution condemns."

The high court has agreed to hear oral arguments in the case April 6.

Adoption Foundation Founder To Visit Here

Harry Holt, founder of the Harry Holt Adoption Foundation for Korean Orphans, will be in Lincoln Tuesday and Wednesday.

Open house will be held for him Tuesday evening at the Robert Manley home, 4305 So. 84th, according to Mrs. Manley.

Holt, formerly of Lincoln, will leave Wednesday night, taking a Korean orphan to a South American family.

Mother Asks Law Against Use Of Open-Fire Flares

A Lincoln mother has asked that an ordinance prohibiting the use of open-fire flares be enacted by the City Council.

Mrs. Albert A. Drawing of 2327 Washington said the open-fire flares "smoke up the neighborhood" and "children play with them, put them out, or catch things on fire."

"Please do something before some child becomes a human torch," wrote the mother of seven in a letter filed with the city clerk.

Callan, Swenson File For Congress

Two Democrats seeking election to Congress completed their filings Thursday.

—Clair A. Callan of Odell for the First Congressional District post, and Richard Swenson of Omaha for the Second Congressional District seat.

Three candidates filed for legislative posts: H.L. (Pat) Patterson of Omaha became the 11th candidate for the 8th district seat; Charles J. By-strek of Omaha filed for the 12th District, and George C. Haynes of Comstock for the 40th District.

Filing as delegates to the Democratic national convention were James J. Exon of Lincoln, R. F. Gilmore of Lincoln, and Clifford J. Sullivan of Jackson, all from the First District.

Filing as delegates to the Republican national convention were R. C. Johnson of Mead (who has been elected to serve as a delegate to the last four GOP conventions from the old Third Congressional District) and Philip C. Anderson of Crete, both from the First District. William F. Ginn and Jack L. Spence, both of Omaha, filed as GOP delegates from the Second District.

Filing as alternate delegates to the Republican convention were Mrs. Isabelle Craig of Lincoln, First District, and Ralph A. Baker of Valentine and Mrs. Rosemary L. McCain of Gering, both from the Third District.

KIEWIT BID APPARENTLY LOW FOR PROJECT IN OMAHA

Peter Kiewit Sons' of Omaha was the apparent low bidder Thursday at $1,746,021 for a paving project on "L" St. in Omaha between 51st and 84th Sts.

The work includes grading, culverts, traffic signals and lighting.

Construction work along 37 miles of Nebraska 39 in Merri-ck County between Genoa and Silver Creek was the only other project in the special letting. There were two low bidders for three different parts of the job.

Roadmix, Inc. of Fremont bid $89,551 for grading and culverts and $76,738 for guard rail, shoulder construction, armor coat and bituminous sand surface course. The Missouri Valley Construction Co. of Grand Island was apparently low at $46,375 for a bridge.

The low bids totaled $1,933,689, just under the $2 million advance estimate.

French Envoys Urging Split With U.S.

Friday, March 6, 1964 The Lincoln Star 7

By TOM OCHILTREE
 London (AP) — Diplomatic sources said Thursday night that President Charles de Gaulle's envoys in various capitals are openly suggesting that western European nations disassociate themselves from the United States in every way possible.
 This activity has been mounting over the last two years. It is causing growing concern inside the ranks of the Atlantic Alliance.
 The sources stressed that the French moves are political rather than economic in character.
 Unexpected
 For example, France is not expected to torpedo the forthcoming negotiations in GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) to lower world trade barriers.
 The informants said it would not be in De Gaulle's long-term interest to wreck the tariff talks. If the negotiations are successful, the United States would be in a position to slash its tariffs by as much as 50% and this would help the French trade balance. The French import more from the United States than they sell to the Americans.
 The sources said De Gaulle does not have the power base to exercise the influence he would like but that he is trading on a residue of pro-French feeling in many countries. In other words, the French language, culture and way of life assume a large importance in his international operations.

 Diplomats spoke with admiration of the way De Gaulle has revived French influence in the former French colonial territories in Africa. He has almost brought the French union idea to life without any imperialist overtones, they said.
 Apparently the French leader would like to do the same thing in Latin America and Asia. He seems, however, to have somewhat overestimated the influence he could exert on West Germany, according to this assessment.
 The West Germans, in fact, have any choice between the United States and France, clearly indicate a desire to stick close to the United States.
 Not Trying
 The French did not seem to be trying to exploit American troubles in Southeast Asia in order to weaken U.S. influence in Europe.

 French recognition of Communist China, however, has raised a number of difficult problems for Washington. It seems increasingly difficult to visualize how Southeast Asia can be stabilized without getting some arrangement with the Chinese Communists, and that would appear to be out of the question so long as Washington refuses to recognize Peking.
 Recognition of Communist China cannot be an easy step for the United States, because of Peking's insistence on taking over Formosa — an action Washington would not allow.
 Yet the deteriorating situation in South Viet Nam presents an increasingly dangerous problem for American policy makers.
 have sufficient knowledge of the Birmingham situation to go into it fully," Davis pointed out. "It wouldn't be regarded as a satisfactory test, from the Alabama standpoint."
 Police officers gathered to question Rosecrans after he was charged with a racial bombing in Jacksonville and linked by the FBI to the Ku Klux Klan. So far, officers said, there was nothing concrete to associate Rosecrans with the railroad or the Birmingham violence.
 The blast on Feb. 16 heavily damaged the home of 6-year-old Donald Godfrey, only Negro pupil in a Jacksonville elementary school integrated by court order.
 Two Duval County officials said they might file a state charge against Rosecrans. He was put under temporary bond of $25,000 on a federal charge of violating the 1960 civil rights act.
 The FBI concentrated on an intensive check of the Ku Klux Klan in Jacksonville and hinted at further arrests.

 "Rosecrans was found in the company of Duval County Klan members the night after the bombing," said D. K. Brown, FBI agent in charge at Jacksonville.
 Since his arrest Tuesday afternoon at work in a St. Augustine boatyard, Rosecrans has been expressionless in public.
 He's 'Put Out'
 "Rosecrans is put out at society," said Sheriff L. O. Davis of St. Johns County.
 Four Alabama officers sought to determine if Rosecrans had been involved in any of the incidents that marked violent racial friction in that Deep South state last year, especially the Sept. 16 explosion that killed four girls at a church.
 Sheriff Mel Bailey of Jefferson County, Ala., said the FBI had definitely placed Rosecrans in Mobile last fall, working there as an auto mechanic.

 Officers said Rosecrans came to Jacksonville in October 1963 and lived in suburban Arlington until Feb. 22, when he saw FBI agents going through his car.
 They found a few sticks of dynamite in the car and 800 more buried nearby, FBI agents reported.
 Sheriff Davis said Rosecrans registered at a St. Augustine hotel on Feb. 25 under the name of James Lewis and had gone to work in a boatyard. Davis said he originally arrested Rosecrans on the FEC railroad dynamiting investigation.
 Two trains were wrecked by dynamite blasts near St. Augustine Feb. 27, the day President Johnson was dedicating the cross — Florida barge canal — 30 miles southwest of St. Augustine. The explosions were the latest in a 13-month-old strike against the FEC.

Man With Klan Links Cleared In Railway Blasts

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP) — Sheriff's officers said a lie detector test Thursday cleared William Sterling Rosecrans of implication in the Florida East Coast Railway dynamite bombings.
 Investigators from Alabama continued questioning the slender 30-year-old mechanic from Anderson, Ind., about the series of Alabama racial bombings.
 Rosecrans was expected to be given a second polygraph test by the Alabama officers Friday, after a night's rest.
 Flying Colors
 "He passed our test with flying colors," said Sheriff L. O. Davis at St. Augustine, where Rosecrans was taken for the lie detector test on the FEC bombings.
 Davis said Rosecrans was questioned about Birmingham bombings, and polygraph operator Harold L. Woodrum said his answers gave no indication of guilt.
 "But the operator didn't have sufficient knowledge of the Birmingham situation to go into it fully," Davis pointed out. "It wouldn't be regarded as a satisfactory test, from the Alabama standpoint."

 Police officers gathered to question Rosecrans after he was charged with a racial bombing in Jacksonville and linked by the FBI to the Ku Klux Klan. So far, officers said, there was nothing concrete to associate Rosecrans with the railroad or the Birmingham violence.

Succession Act Needed Fast

SAYS NIXON WHO HAS 'NO PET IDEAS'

Washington (AP)—Richard M. Nixon urged Thursday Congress to move promptly to keep the office of vice president filled and to avoid possible disputes over whether a disabled president is capable of serving.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

Your colon has nerves that control regularly. When you are tense or nervous, normal bowel impulses may be blocked—and you become constipated. New COLONALD tablets relieve this misery with a new principle—a unique colonic nerve stimulant plus special bulk action as recommended by many doctors. Result? COLONALD puts your colon back to work—gently relieves constipation overnight. You feel great! Get clinically-proved COLONALD today. Introductory size 43¢.

The former vice president and 1960 Republican presidential candidate offered his own formula but told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee he has "no pet ideas to sell." The important thing, he told the senators, is for them to "seize the idea" they believe will receive the strongest public support and act quickly. It is important, Nixon said, to solve the problem while the public is acutely aware of it as a result of President John F. Kennedy's assassination and Dwight D. Eisenhower's heart attack when he was president.

"The more time that elapses, the less urgency the people and the Congress will feel," he said. Nixon, testifying without a prepared statement, said constitutional amendments to remedy the constitutional "flaw" would take two to four years to ratify. He suggested Congress provide interim legislation.

Emphasizing the growing importance of the vice president, Nixon said the nation's No. 2 executive "can and should be used even more than in the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations," and should be a man who can be trusted with important assignments.

Nixon stressed that he regards presidential disability as "the major problem" in this field, partly because there already is a law on presidential succession.

The former vice president agreed with Eisenhower that the office of vice president should always be kept filled, but they differed in the method of selecting a substitute vice president.

Eisenhower recommended in a letter Wednesday nomination of a new vice president by the president subject to confirmation by both House and Senate.

Nixon proposed that when the office becomes vacant it be filled by the Electoral College on the recommendation of the president.

Before Nixon testified, his proposal was opposed by Clinton Rossiter, Cornell University political science professor, who went along with Eisenhower's proposal. Rossiter objected that "the electors are rarely men of national standing."

A Truly Spectacular Buffet Dish

Do you have a few cans of salmon and a box of instant nonfat dry milk crystals? If you do, you have the makings of a spectacular, a truly superb buffet dish for the Lenten season, spring or summer. From these two unassuming, always available ingredients... plus some eggs, a little dill and parsley and so forth... you can prepare a Salmon Mousse that is as magnificent to behold as it is to eat.

The instant crystals that go into the Salmon Mousse contribute to its velvety texture, its lightly rich flavor and to its first rate nourishment... they contain all of the proteins, B vitamins, phosphorus and calcium of whole milk. The instant crystals are used again... with dairy sour cream, cucumbers and dill... for a fresh and delicious sauce to accompany the mousse.

This mousse is lovely for buffet service when chilled in a fish mold. We show it in a two-quart fish mold, but you can also make it in two one-quart molds. A rim of chopped parsley provides a dramatic outline to the shape of the mold. A fish mousse should be quite cold to be at its best and if you set the platter holding the mousse in to a bed of crushed ice man's ice, it will remain firm and well chilled. Ice man's ice is a particularly good companion for food... as it is so very pure. The water for this ice is purified and filtered to the point where it is actually purer than our regular drinking water. It has a diamond clarity and hardness, melting much more slowly than ordinary ice. Ice man's ice is available by the bag in supermarkets and at ice vending machines, and it may be stored conveniently in the home freezer.

SALMON MOUSSE

(Makes 6 servings)

- 2 cans (1 pound each) salmon
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine

- 1 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals
  - 3/4 cup water
  - 1 tablespoon grated onion
  - 1 vegetable bouillon cube
  - 4 eggs, separated
  - 2 teaspoons chopped dill
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon celery seed
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
  - Chopped parsley
- Drain salmon, reserving 1/2 cup liquid. Sprinkle gelatine over salmon liquid to soften; stir over low heat until dissolved. In saucepan, stir instant crystals into water; add onion and bouillon cube. Stir over low heat until bouillon is dissolved (do not boil). Beat egg yolks lightly; quickly stir into milk mixture and cook 3 minutes longer. Remove from heat; stir in salmon and seasonings. Stir in dissolved gelatine. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into salmon mixture until smooth. Turn into lightly oiled 2-quart mold. Chill until set. Garnish with chopped parsley.

DILL CUCUMBER SAUCE

(Makes 3 cups)

- 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 cups dairy sour cream
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon chopped fresh dill or 1/4 teaspoon dill weed
- 2 tablespoons chopped chives or green onions
- 3/4 cup coarsely grated cucumber

Stir instant crystals into water in bowl. Blend in remaining ingredients. Chill thoroughly.

Something Different

Not one but two Cinnamon Apple Coffee Cakes. Use a loaf of unsliced bread (day old is excellent and cheaper, too) and breakfast can be ready in 30 minutes.

CINNAMON APPLE COFFEE CAKE

- 1 pound loaf unsliced enriched white bread
  - 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1 cup sliced peeled apple
- Remove crusts from bread. Slice loaf lengthwise into 4 slices. Brush all sides with butter or margarine. Mix sugar and cinnamon. Place two bread slices on separate sheets of aluminum foil. Arrange apple slices on each slice. Cover with sugar mixture. Wrap with foil. Place on baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Remove from oven, unwrap and sprinkle Cinnamon Crumb Topping on top of each coffee cake. Return to oven, uncovered, for 10 minutes. Serve hot.

CINNAMON CRUMB TOPPING

- 2 tablespoons dry enriched bread crumbs
  - 2 tablespoons enriched bread crumbs
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 2 tablespoons cold butter or margarine
- Mix together bread crumbs, flour, sugar and cinnamon. Cut or rub in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly. Makes 2 coffee cakes.

New Angle On Chicken Livers

MACARONI AND CHICKEN LIVERS

(Serves 6)

- 1 (8-ounce) package medium elbow macaroni
- 2 Tablespoons pure vegetable oil
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 8 chicken livers, coarsely chopped
- 1 Tablespoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt or garlic salt
- 2 (8-ounce) cans Tomato Sauce with Mushrooms
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 bouillon cubes
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water. While it is cooking, saute onion and chicken livers in pure vegetable oil. Stir in flour and salt. Add tomato sauce with mushrooms, water and bouillon cubes. Cook and stir for 5 minutes. Drain macaroni and combine with chicken liver mixture. Stir in 1/2 of cheese. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Sprinkle remaining cheese on top and bake at 350°F. for 25-30 minutes or until brown and bubbly.

RAISIN PRALINE CRUNCH

Place 1 cup California raisins in buttered 8-inch square pan. Boil together 3/4 cup butter and 1 cup brown sugar to hard ball stage. Pour over raisins. Top with 1 (6-ounce) package semi sweet chocolate pieces, spreading as they melt. Chill firm, then break into pieces. They're delectable tidbits for an evening of bridge or TV.

A Recipe Collector's Item

halves for the pagoda walls. Fill with shrimp (or chicken) mixture and top with waffle corners (left over from cutting circles) for the pagoda towers.

FILLING

- Ingredients:
- 2 cups cooked, cleaned shrimp or cooked, cubed chicken
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion (including darker green tops)
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1/2 cup sliced (canned) water chestnuts
- 1 teaspoon fresh, canned or candied ginger cut in tiny slivers
- 1 cup sour cream
- Salt

Method: Saute onions gently in the oil. Add chicken, chestnuts, ginger and sour cream. Salt to taste and simmer until thoroughly hot.

With the Shrimp Pagoda, serve carrot, celery and cucumber sticks or a salad of drained, canned bean sprouts and spinach leaves. Have a molded fruit gelatin dessert, which can also be prepared ahead of time. Deep fry some waffle fingers in hot oil (400 degrees) for nibbling with the salad.

The bridge season is year-round nowadays. This, in turn, stimulates the secondary sport of recipe-collecting. Afternoon or evening, when the foursores foregather, there is always the pleasant anticipation of food.

Since admittedly there is refreshment rivalry among bridge hostesses, someone may come right out and boast that "A" for appetite appeal is the result of using frozen waffle suggestions that are, of course, just as valid for supper after the football game in the autumn or the theater anytime.

No Wasted Time In Suburbia

MEADOW LANE

Everyone seems to be in a rush these days and especially in suburbia where everyone is busy with club activities, PTA, and social events.

And mothers seem to be getting busier as the days go by. One suburban housewife was relating her (normal) day to us this morning which began something like this. Up at 7 o'clock to feed the children, husband and the variety of pets, a 9:30 o'clock appointment at the orthodontist; a 10:30 o'clock committee meeting; a noon luncheon; a 2 o'clock PTA mothers program committee meeting; a 4 o'clock bridge lesson, and a quick return to get dinner and prepare for the twice-monthly bridge club which was meeting at her home that evening.

Quite a busy day, but we doubt if suburban residents would have it any other way — judging by the activities going on this week.

Meadow Lane residents who are preparing for a busy weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Fleck and their two children, Mike and Elizabeth.

The Fleck family will be leaving Lincoln Saturday morning for Nelson where they will spend the weekend with Mr. Fleck's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Porter. On Sunday there will be a family gathering at the Porter home in honor of Mr. Fleck's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Fleck who are celebrating their birthdays.

Other family members who will also be motoring to Nelson this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fleck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Faiman and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Fleck of Edgar.

And Mrs. Fleck was hostess at her home on Wednesday when she and her two children, Mike and Elizabeth, had as their guest for the day her mother, Mrs. Mary Clark of Geneva.

Other busy Meadow Lane residents are Mr. and Mrs. John Howe who will be host and hostess at a dinner and bridge party at their home on Saturday evening.

Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conway, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kirtrell.

A pleasant Sunday afternoon and evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Leah Way, 1621 D.

The history books have told us how the west was won, but leave it to the Revelers Dancing Club to show 'How the West Was Won.' That is the theme that has been chosen for the club's costume dinner-dance Saturday evening at Hotel Cornhusker.

We hear that four prizes are to be awarded—one for the best male costume; one for the best woman's costume—a third for the most authentic, and the fourth—for the funniest.

Planning the affair is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hyland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Dr. and Mrs. John Wiedman and Dr. and Mrs. Earl Lampshire.

The Revelers' regular history class will be augmented by seven guest couples—Mr. and Mrs. J. William Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Nefsky, Mr. and Mrs. George McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Russell, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Zandt, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Dusenberry of Beatrice, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Eaton.

A postscript on the Revelers' dinner dance is news of a pre-party party for which Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sands and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simon will be hosts and hostesses.

On the Thursday calendar was a luncheon for which Mrs. James W. Lantz, Jr., was hostess when she honored two out of town guests, Mrs. James Carrier of El Paso, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, and Mrs. LaMar Ledbetter of Tampa, Fla., also formerly of Lincoln.

Mrs. Carrier is the guest of Mrs. Carrier's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Carrier, and Mrs. Ledbetter is visiting friends at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

We understand that from Lincoln Mrs. Ledbetter will go to Colorado, where her son, LaMar, Jr., is attending the Air Force Academy, and where she will do some skiing.

We also learned that Mrs. Carrier has some interesting plans and we'll tell you about them later.

Marriage Solemnized

At an early evening service on Thursday, March 5, the marriage of Imogene Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Ford of Denton, Tex., to Willard N. Griess, son of Mrs. Nathan Griess of Medford, Ore., was solemnized in the chapel of St.

Paul Methodist Church. Dr. Clarence J. Forsberg read the lines of the 6 o'clock ceremony.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Don Hendrix.

Following a short wedding trip to southern states, Mr. and Mrs. Griess will make their home in Lincoln.

make if East had opened the bidding as dealer with one spade, but, under the circumstances, a competitive bid of two hearts is clearly indicated.

3. Pass. There is a limit to how far to carry the protective principle. The best contract appears to be one spade—played by West. This is primarily a defensive hand, once West has bid spades, and it is quite likely that the best result will be achieved by passing. The probability is that West will go down one or two tricks.

4. Double. Of course, this is a light takeout double, but, in the balancing question, values may be shaded in order to keep the bidding alive. There is a good chance of making a part score, and, at the same time, depriving the opponents of one.

5. Three diamonds. Here we have ample values for a double, but, because of the one-sided nature of the hand, they can best be identified by jumping to three diamonds. Naturally, this shows more strength than would a two diamond bid. The hope is that partner can bid three notrump.

6. Double. It would be wrong to bid two hearts, which we might well do if the ace of clubs were the

SKYLINE TERRACE

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kreuzberg and their sons, Bruce and Brian, entertained guests at their Skyline Terrace home last Saturday evening and they were Mr. and Mrs. George Lowery and sons, Kent, Brian and Gregg who were dinner and evening guests.

We have news this morning of a new arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Knickerbocker, a son, Walter J., who arrived Feb. 13 at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Walter J. has an older brother, Marlin Gene, and two older sisters, Cindy Ray and Pamela Ann. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Knickerbocker and Mrs. Ray Martin.

And new residents in Skyline Terrace as of last Friday are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Welch and their two daughters, Terri Lynn, age 5 and Julie Ann, age 3.

The Welch family, before moving into their new home on Terrace Road, resided at 4629 Gladstone.

Dear Abby

Tell Daughter She Is Cheating Herself

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an engagement where the couple has to sneak around like thieves to meet secretly because the boy's parents are opposed to the marriage, and he is afraid to face them with the facts? He swears he loves the girl, yet he has never taken her to a public place, and they have been going together for over a year. She has studied and gone to classes for months to take his religion, but, on Sundays when she sees him in church with his parents, he doesn't dare even to look in her direction. This girl could have her pick of many other boys, but she just sits home and waits for him to sneak away and see her. She is so in love with him it pains me to see her hurt like this. How can I help?

THE GIRL'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: You do not mention their ages. Or his educational or financial status. This is of utmost importance. If he is still dependent on his parents, announcing his engagement to a girl of whom they disapprove would end all help from them. If he loved the girl enough, and were a man, he'd do just that, and find a way to make it on his own. He is obviously unwilling, unable—or no man. Do your daughter a favor and tell her she is cheating herself.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has started to talk so loud she is driving me crazy. When I remind her to tone down she starts to speak in almost a whisper, but before long she is yelling again. What should I do? We've been married almost 30 years.

GOING CRAZY
DEAR GOING: Take your wife to a doctor who specializes in disorders of the ear. She could be suffering from a hearing loss and not know it.

DEAR ABBY: What would you have done in a case like this? My daughter-in-law had a birthday coming up, so I asked her in my most pleasant tone, "What would you like for your birthday, dear?" She looked me right in the eye and replied, "Give me the money instead, Mother. Your taste is atrocious!"
STRUCK SPEECHLESS
DEAR STRUCK: I'd have given her a "taste" of an ignored birthday.

Why Grow Old?

Exercise For Waist

Josephine Lowman

This exercise is slimming to do. Mrs. Lowman gives you instructions for doing it in today's column.

No matter how lovely your legs, your bust and your hips may be, unless you have a slim waist your figure becomes uninteresting. Without this the silhouette loses much of its form and grace. It's a shame to let this happen since the waistline is one of the easiest measurements to reduce. The following is a splendid motion toward beauty. Make it every day!

Stand an arm's length from the wall, facing away from the wall, feet comfortably apart. Keep the feet on the floor as you turn to the left and try to touch the fingertips of both hands to the wall. Turn forward. This time turn to the right trying to touch the fingertips to the wall.

You will probably be able to touch the wall with the fingers of only one hand, but reach with the other. It is also important to keep the feet on the floor so that you get a real twist at the waist.

Here is another waist slimmer which you can do at your dressing table. Sit tall and pull your tummy in — back toward your backbone. Head should be up with chin parallel to the floor and ribcage should be lifted. Straighten your legs out in front of you, feet on the floor.

Take a mirror in your right hand. Turn in different directions as far as you can while you look at yourself from varying angles.

The way you dress also has a great influence on your appearance of slimness. Unless you are very slim, almost a beanpole, extremely wide belts will not be flattering to your figure. Wear a narrow belt or none at all. Belts of the same color as the dress are more slimming than a contrasting shade. Belts which dip in the back are slenderizing.

1. One notrump. When the bidding dies at a low level, the last player to speak has an obligation to keep the bidding going if it is at all feasible to do so. Since his only choice lies between passing or bidding, he cannot be held strictly responsible for having the values that any bid he makes would ordinarily imply.

Thus, a one notrump bid in this sequence does not mean that he has the customary 16 to 18 points. On the contrary, he will usually have three or four points less than the normal expectancy. A player in the protective or balancing seat is entitled to assume that his partner has more values than his pass would indicate, and he should generally act on that basis rather than pass.

2. Two hearts. This would be a dangerous overcall to

NU To Buy Structure At 10th And S

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents Thursday agreed to purchase the Hill Hatcher property at 10th and S Streets for $210,000. The property includes three lots with 10,000 square feet of building space which the University plans to convert into classrooms. Vice Chancellor A. C. Breckenridge noted the possibility of space problems in the chemistry and biological sciences departments because of anticipated enrollments.

The Regents were advised that the one-story, relatively new brick building could be converted for classroom use by September. Chancellor Clifford Hardin said equipment purchased for the new building would be of the type which could be moved and utilized in a future chemistry building.

2 Omaha Tracts
Other property approved for purchase by the Board of Regents included two tracts near the College of Medicine campus in Omaha for a total cost of $28,500. In other action, the Regents rejected all bids for construction of a feed handling facility at the North Platte Experiment Station. The lowest bid was reported to be some $45,000 higher than pilot estimates.

Dr. Cromwell Heads Chemistry Dept.

Dr. Norman H. Cromwell was appointed chairman of the University of Nebraska chemistry department by the Board of Regents Thursday.

A staff member since 1939, Dr. Cromwell succeeds Dr. E. Roger Washburn, who asked to be relieved of the chairmanship to devote full time to teaching and research.

Dr. Cromwell, an authority on anti-cancer drugs, is a graduate of Rose Polytechnic Institute and received his doctorate from the University of Minnesota.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Dr. Charles W. Colman, chairman of the department of romance languages.

Dr. Colman has accepted a position with State University of New York at Albany.

The resignation of Harry Dederling, program coordinator at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, who is joining the University of Minnesota staff, was also accepted.

Changes
Other approved staff changes include:
—appointment of Sherwood

M. Sullivan, practicing lawyer in San Francisco, Calif., as associate professor of law, filling a vacancy created by the retirement of Frederick K. Beutel last year.

—naming of Walter Rowden manager of livestock operations in the Department of Animal Science.

—appointment of John Rothlisberger, research technician at the Ft. Robinson Beef Cattle Research Station at Crawford, to assistant superintendent—a post formerly held by Rowden.

Eleven Top NU Grads To Visit As 'Masters'

The University of Nebraska will host its second Masters Program April 26-28 when 11 nationally-known alumni will return to visit with students.

Theme for the program is "Masters 1964. Builders of Today. Heritage of Tomorrow," according to John Lydick of Lincoln, chairman of the Student Council masters committee. The program is sponsored jointly by the Student Council and the chancellor's office.

After a "highly successful" Masters Program last year, the 1964 event is being expanded to include masters and their wives. Wives will address women's living units while their husbands are meeting male students.

First Woman
The first woman master and first Nebraska master are included in the group of returning alumni this year. They are:

Dr. Ruth Leverton, administrator for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., United Nations lecturer in home economics in Turkey and Egypt, and former University staff member.

—Regent Val Peterson of Hastings, former governor and former ambassador to Denmark.

Other masters include:

—Dr. Herbert Brownell Jr., New York, N.Y., former U.S. attorney general and president of the New York Bar Association.

—Merle Jones, New York, N.Y., president of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

—Harry Letton, San Marino, Calif., senior vice president and general counsel for the Southern California Gas Company.

Banker

—Allen Sutherland, San Diego, Calif., senior vice president of the Security First National Bank of San Diego.

—Arthur Bryan, New York, N.Y., president of Union Carbide Consumer Products.

—J. Kenneth Cozier, Cleveland, Ohio, president of the Cozier Container Company.

—Edward Stanley, New York, N.Y., director of public affairs, National Broadcasting Company.

—Samuel Waugh, Washington, D.C., former president of the United States Export-Import Bank.

—Robert Hart, Chicago, Ill., chairman of the board of Armour Pharmaceutical Company.

Omaha (UPI) — Gen. Thomas S. Power, Strategic Air Command commander in chief, has designated March 15 at the sixth annual SAC Memorial Sunday.

In a letter to numbered Air Force and overseas air division commanders, General Power urged all members of the command to attend a worship service of their choice on March 15.

The dates commemorates the 18th anniversary of SAC. SAC Memorial Sunday is traditionally observed on the week of SAC's anniversary date, March 21.

Research Grants Totalling $420,367 Accepted By NU

Research grants totaling $420,367 were accepted by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents Thursday.

Of the $154,078 in grant funds received from the U.S. Public Health Service, the largest single item was $50,418 to Dr. Richard L. Meile of the department of neurology and psychiatry at the College of Medicine for research on the social and psychological factors in psychiatric referral.

Other major grants included:

—$22,833 from the health service to Dr. Donald M. Pace, department of zoology and physiology, for studies of the effects of air pollutants on human lung cells.

—$11,656 from the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation to Dr. Buent Tunkian, department of neurology and psychiatry at the College of Medicine, for studies on the use of community boarding houses as transitional living facilities for the vocational rehabilitation of psychiatric patients.

Lucy To Stay On Television

Hollywood (UPI) — Lucille Ball has changed her mind and will continue on television this fall with her weekly half hour program, the CBS television Network announced Thursday.

In January, the comedienne had announced she was quitting the weekly show to devote more time to her duties as head of Desilu Studios.

Miss Ball has agreed to a new three-year contract, according to James T. Aubrey, president of CBS.

Miss Ball's decision to return came shortly after a series produced by her studio, "The Greatest Show on Earth," was removed from the 1964-65 schedule of ABC-TV.

The red-haired actress had been expected to devote considerable attention to that series in her capacity as studio boss.

Wants Crack At Champions

Nebraska freshman sprinter Charles Greene is a fellow who, if he were a pole vaulter, would want to start the bar at 15 feet.

The bespectacled dasher from Seattle, Wash., would prefer to take his chances on finishing second against a champion sprinter rather than go for a certain first against a less talented field.

"What class is Beldner in?" Greene asked as he stepped onto the Nebraska bus last weekend to return from Kansas City, Mo., site of the Big Eight indoor championships.

And when the Husker speedster was informed by teammate Gil Gebro that the Missouri ace was a senior, a disappointed look crept over Greene's face.

"I wish he was only a junior so I could run against him next year," Greene answered.

"I wish he was, too, so you could beat him," Gebro replied, expressing well-founded confidence in the youngster, who has been dubbed 'Mr. Peepers' by his teammates.

Although Greene won't get a shot at Beldner, the Big Eight 60-yard dash champion the last two years, in next year's indoor meet, he may run across the Tiger senior at one of the major outdoor relays.

This possibility was set up when the Big Eight faculty representatives relaxed the conference's freshman rules to allow fresh athletes to compete in the Kansas, Colorado and Kansas State Relays.

But there is little wonder that Greene, although only a freshman, doesn't look in awe at a Big Eight champion such as Beldner.

After all, this Husker freshman has already rubbed elbows down the 60-yard dash trail with some of the world's greatest. Two weeks ago, it was Greene who pushed Bob Hayes to a world record 65.9 in the 60 during a Madison Square Garden appearance.

May Junk 60, However
However, Greene has jokingly indicated that he may junk the 60-yard dash and go for the longer distances.

"What kind of trophy do they give for winning the 60?" he asked, while eyeing the large display item that Gebro had won for his victory in the 600.

When told that the 60-yard dash champion received only a medal, Greene's next question was, "What do you get for winning the 440?" Again the same reply, "Only a medal."

"You mean I have to run 600 yards to get a trophy like that?" Greene asked. "I might think about running the 440 for it, but 600. No, I guess, I'll just stick to the 60 and take the medals."

Nebraska track fans will probably be happy for that decision during the next three years.

Murrell Heads UPI All-Stars

... ONLY UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI)—Willie Murrell, the do-everything forward of champion Kansas State, heads the 1964 All-Big Eight Conference basketball team announced Thursday by United Press International.

Murrell, a 6-foot-6 forward from Taft, Okla., was the only unanimous selection on the all-star team and also was named the league's player of the year in a poll of sportswriters and sportscasters throughout the conference area.

Others named to the all-star team were George Unseld of Kansas, Jim Davis of Colorado, Ray Bob Carey of Missouri and Larry Hawk of Oklahoma State.

For Murrell, Davis and Hawk, it marked the second year in a row they were named to the All-Big Eight team.

Russell (Sax) Walseth, Colorado coach for the past eight years, was named the league's coach of the year.

After winning the Big Eight title in 1962 and sharing it with Kansas State in 1963, Colorado appeared depleted by graduation losses this year.

But in the midst of rebuilding, Walseth brought Colorado into the thick of the conference battle and a probable second-place finish.

Murrell and Unseld currently are ensnared in a torrid battle for Big Eight scoring honors. Murrell has averaged 21.8 points in 12 games, while Unseld has averaged 21.7 points in 13 games.

The high-scoring all-star team, composed of three seniors and two juniors, averages 6-foot-6 in height. Davis at 6-foot-8, is the tallest on the team. Hawk, at 6-foot-1, is the shortest.

Murrell, Davis and Carey are the seniors. Unseld and Hawk are juniors and will play again next year.

Carey, of Cameron, Mo., and Hawk, of Enid, Okla., are the only members of the all-star team playing with schools representing their home states. Davis is from Louisville, Ky., and Murrell is from Oklahoma.

Members of the second all-star team are Roger Suttner and Max Moss of Kansas State, Bob Joyce of Colorado, Bob Price of Missouri and Jim King of Oklahoma State.

PIUS X ROMPS PAST LSE

Press Boosts 'Bolts' ... 68-53 COUNT

Pius X exploded for 26 points in the fourth quarter Thursday night to smother Southeast, 68-53, in the Class A District basketball tournament at Pershing Auditorium.

The Thunderbolts rode the wave of an effective press and repeated Southeast miscues to gain a Saturday finals berth opposite Lincoln North-east.

It was the second mild surprise in as many nights in the big Capital City cage showdown. Northeast's win Wednesday avenged two earlier setbacks to Lincoln High.

And Pius was handed a 66-57 loss by Southeast earlier in the regular season campaign.

Chris Wickham, Dayle Churchill and Mike Bohaty were the big cogs in the Pius machine.

Wickham accounted for 24 points to take game scoring honors. Churchill had 17 and Bohaty 14 and this pair gave Pius a tough one-two combination in the rebounding department.

The game had all the makings of a thriller for three quarters. The Thunderbolts held a narrow 19-18 first quarter margin, but Southeast forged a 30-all deadlock at intermission.

Pius then moved ahead 42-39 behind its third quarter press and in the final stanza the roof fell completely in on the Knights.

The Pius press and Bohaty's great defensive job on Southeast star Steve Bock in the fourth quarter spelled doom for SE.

Bock started the game with a great shooting exhibition, getting nine points in the first three minutes of play. He had 15 at halftime, but his second half total was a mere third quarter field goal.

Bock's 17 points still paced the losers. He drew personal foul number 5 and his exit with exactly four minutes left on the clock.

The 7:30 p.m. contest Saturday will give the winner a ticket to next week's big state tournament.

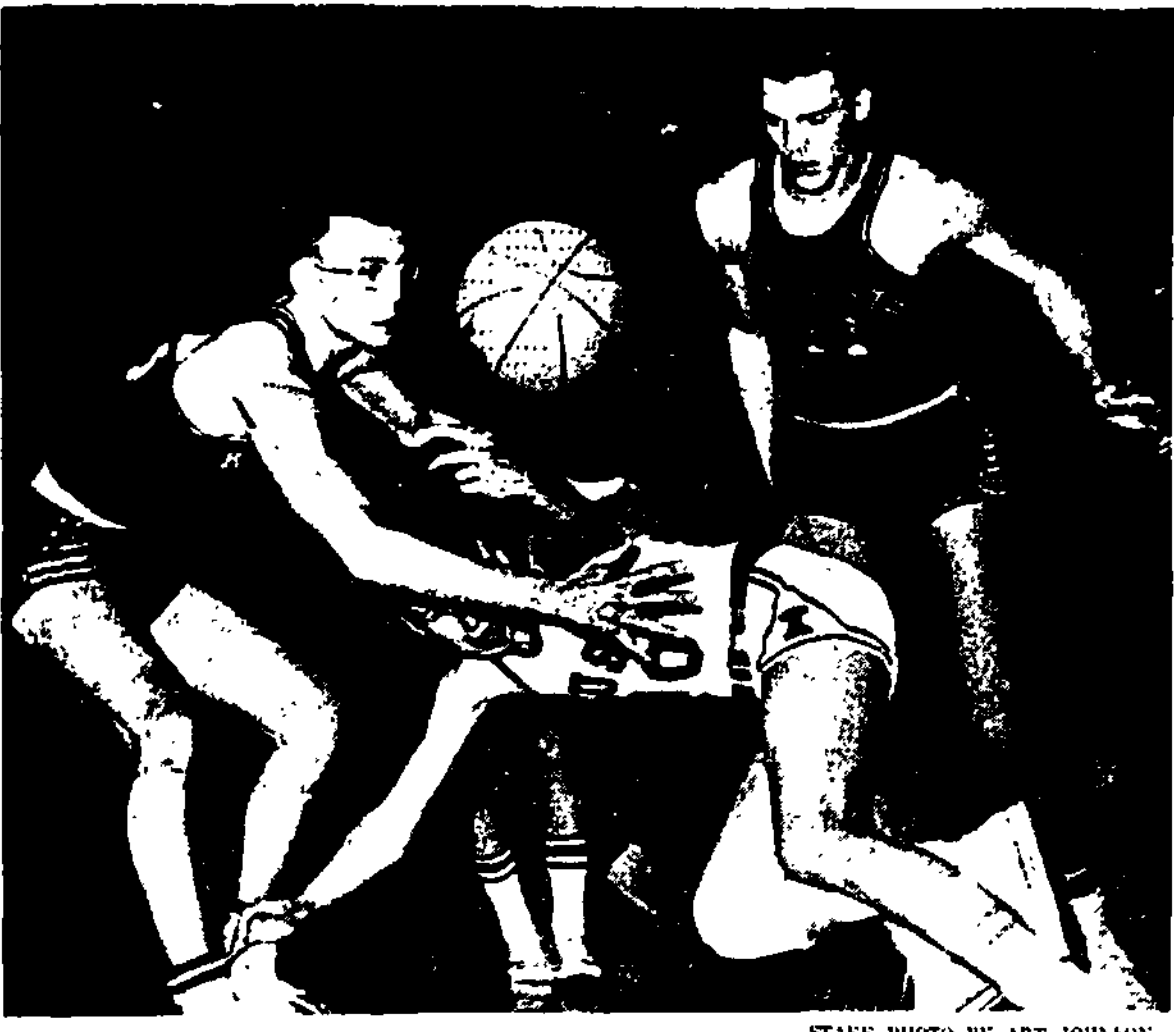

Pius has never been in the state meet since its founding seven years ago. The closest it came was four years ago when once again Northeast halted the bid in district final play.

Waverly Gains Class C Tourney Spot ... VIKINGS CAPITALIZE ON ST. JOSEPH FOULS

Waverly blasted its way into the Class C State Tournament Thursday night with a 63-55 win over Omaha St. Joseph at the Northeast gym.

The Vikings, capitalizing on St. Joe fouls, ran off 12 straight points in the third quarter to take a 32-25 lead.

Going into the second half, Waverly trailed 25-20, but with 6:33 to go in the third period, John Westland pumped a jumper in to make it 25-25 and followed less than a minute later with a free throw for the lead, 26-25. They never trailed again.

The Johawks began taking bad shots against the Viking zone in the third quarter as Waverly kept pounding away, and got themselves into foul trouble in the fourth quarter.

St. Joe, which finished its season with a 18-5 record, made a comeback late in the fourth quarter. The Johawks sliced it to 59-55 with 22 seconds to go, but Tom Shepherd's four free throws put it out of reach.

Free throws won it for Waverly. Hitting 14 of 16 in the last quarter, the Vikings had 25 for 32 for the night—a 78% clip.

Randy Armstrong, playing with a taped shooting wrist, led all scorers with 25 points, eight coming in the big third quarter.

Westland, who got 10 in the third period, ended with 18. Shepard got eight, all in the last quarter—a basket and six important free throws.

St. Joe looked as though they would run away with it at the game's beginning. The Vikings, holding a big rebounding edge and hitting well from the outside, sprang to a 13-8 first quarter lead but never held more than that five-point margin before the half.

Don Leitner, a good outside shooter, led the Johawks with 18 points. He had the only hot hand for St. Joe in the last half, pumping in eight.

With the win Waverly takes a 12-7 record to the opening round of the state tourney Thursday.

Sophomore's Late Field Goal Pushes Ralston To 54-52 Win

... PAPILLION OUSTED FROM CLASS B PLAY

By DON EVERSOLL
Star Sports Writer
Tournament fever hit the high-pitch level Thursday night as Ralston pulled out a 54-52 victory over arch-rival Papillion in the Class B District finals at Wesleyan.

Cool sophomore guard Rick Koch drilled a 20-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining to give his team the first class B ticket to state tourney play next week.

Ralston gained final control of the ball with 51 seconds to go when an errant pass went out of bounds off the fingertips of a Papillion player. With the score knotted at 52-52, the Rams stalled until Koch moved open and potted the deciding one-hander.

Papillion held the advantage at 52-49 with 2:30 to play, but Lon Warneke's bucket ten seconds later cut the gap to one point. Papillion took the ball downcourt with two minutes left, but lost control after an exchange of fouls. It was Warneke, again, who connected on the first of a one-and-one series, to deadlock the teams at 52-52.

Ralston got the ball after the second free shot when it took its off-angle bounce out of bounds with but 51 seconds left.

The two teams were never separated by more than three points in the second half, and the lead changed hands seven times during the final three minutes of play. Don Tex and Don Stille led Papillion's drive in the second half when Tex canned six free throws and two fielders and Stille swept the board while contributing a fielder and charity toss during crucial moments.

Bill Haas, Ralston forward, led all scorers with 18 points, while teammate Koch pushed in 10.

Papillion's high honors went to their smooth guard, senior Don Tex who collected 17, most of them 15-foot jumpers from the corner.

Ralston's district win took the sting from a defeat last year at the hands of Falls City who edged the Rams on a free throw awarded with one second to go in a first-round game.

Ralston now stands 20-2 for the season, while Papillion hangs up the basketball gear with an impressive 19-3 record.

Stadium Bids To Be Taken

Construction bids on a 12,000-seat addition to the University of Nebraska stadium will be sought in about 10 days.

The bids probably will be opened early next month. Carl Donaldson gave this information Thursday to the university's board of regents. Donaldson is university business manager.

The seats will be added at the south end of the field and will increase the stadium's permanent seating capacity from 31,000 to 43,000.

An additional 5,000 seats will be available in bleachers at the north end of the field. University officials have said they do not anticipate any difficulty in getting the money needed for the expansion project. It has been estimated the cost could go to $250,000.

Barnum's 67 Takes Lead In Pensacola Open Golf

... PALMER 'BASKET CASE AROUND GREENS'

Pensacola, Fla. (AP)—Big John Barnum, one of golf's elder statesmen, put a five-under-par 33-64 on the scoreboard early in the day and it withstood challenges for the first-round lead in the Pensacola Golf Tournament Thursday.

The 52-year-old Barnum, a club professional in Grand Rapids, Mich., who 16 months ago became the oldest man ever to win a PGA tour tournament, defied strong, cold winds with an eagle and four birds and took a one-stroke lead over five other contenders.

Carding 68s were four regulars Gardner Dickinson Jr., Fred Hawkins, Bill Collins and Jimmy Clark and Walker Cupper Downing Gray, a member of the host Pensacola Country Club who was the runner-up in the 1962 National Amateur at Pinehurst, N.C.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer, still searching for the victory touch in 1964, scored a 69, even though describing himself as "a basket case around the greens." He is tied with six other veterans — Mike Souchak, George Bayler, Johnny Pott, Jay Hebert, Miller Barber and Doug Sanders, the 1962 Pensacola Open champion.

Eleven players posted 70s and 13 others, including former PGA and Masters champion Gary Player, shot 71s. In all, 37 players broke par of 36-36-72 and another 14 matched it despite winds that gusted up to 35 miles per hour under sunny skies on the relatively short, 6,380-yard course.

The deep-voiced Barnum, who finished second to Sam Snead in the PGA Seniors two weeks ago at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., opened strongly when he holed a 40-foot birdie putt on the first green.

Madison Win String Halted At 19 In Class B District

... SCHUYLER UPSETS UNBEATEN CLUB

By Associated Press

Madison, trying to take an unbeaten record into the Nebraska State Class B basketball tournament next week, was upset Thursday night in the regional at Fremont by Schuyler, 43-42. Madison had won 19.

Schuyler won on a field goal by Roger Davis with 25 seconds left. Madison had led at the half, 25-21, and went into the last quarter with a 34-33 advantage.

Davis led the winners with 18 points and Roger Nathan paced Madison with 17.

Omaha Cathedral was sidelined in the other Fremont B regional by North Bend, 67-51, as Jim Dodge hit 23 points for the winners.

Sidney St. Pats beat Crawford, 60-55, in the playoff at Lodgepole to become the seventh team to qualify in Class C for the state meet.

Stanton, Scribner and Tecumseh had qualified Wednesday night. Blue Hill and Arapahoe will contest for the eighth spot Friday night.

Gibbon, with big Kurt Lauer at the controls, gained a state tourney spot by defeating Ansley, 93-64, in the Class C playoff at Kearney.

Lauer hit 52 points, 30 of them in the first half as Gibbon went in front, 50-33. His teammate Don Keiper had 24 points.

Ord and Valentine reached the finals of the B meet at Ord. Ord dumped Burwell, 56-40, after taking a 30-17 half-time lead. Valentine ousted St. Paul, 59-57.

Valentine won on a jumping twisting shot with three seconds to go by Bill Ward. Ward a few seconds before had tied the score with a pair of free throws.

Lexington, which opened the Class B regional at Holdrege with a stunning upset by whipping defending district champ Minden, was itself upset in the semifinals Thursday night.

Curtis did the job, downing the Minutemen by a 52-51 score after trailing 23-24 at the half.

Fred Roubush led Curtis with 15 points and Roger Ruttinger paced Lexington with 15.

Gothenburg got the finals spot against Curtis by brushing aside Imperial, 51-42. The Swedes ran up a 26-12 half-time lead and coasted home. Terry Mann led the balanced Gothenburg attack with 13 points.

Wayne and Laurel won squeakers at the B regional in Bloomfield to reach the final round.

Wayne eliminated Neligh, 65-63, on a 25-foot field goal by Jim Kern with two seconds to play. Kern had 24 points for the game and Bill Waddington had 20 for Neligh.

Laurel dumped Crofton, 64-63, stalling out the last 20 seconds to preserve its margin. Denny Sutton poured in 33 points for Laurel and Kent Kuchan got 24 for Crofton.

Firth and Beaver Crossing reached the Class D final at Milford. Firth slipped past Silver Creek, 57-56, and Beaver Crossing smashed Alvo-Eagle, 71-50.

Seward advanced to a meeting Saturday with York for the B regional title at York by defeating Geneva, 66-56. Seward held a seven point edge at the half, 29-22, and easily held charge.

Les Krenk led Seward with 18 points and Bob Gratto had 20 for Geneva.

Omaha Holy Name, the favorite advanced to a finals meeting with North Bend at Fremont by passing Fremont Bergan, 81-48. Holy Name had things safely in hand at the half, 33-23, and got a 32-point performance from John Moylan.

David City Aquinas got the finals spot in B at Fremont against Schuyler on a 56-52 victory over Albion. Aquinas was in front 30-28 at the half.

Henderson Grabs Tourney Spot In C

By DON FORSYTHE

Prep Sports Writer

Columbus — Henderson, which hasn't made a trip to the state basketball tournament in the last 23 years, earned its ticket to Lincoln here Thursday night with a 47-35 playoff win over Clarkson.

The Huskies, who have lost only once in 21 games—that a 67-66 setback at the hands of Gibbon—grabbed an early lead and protected it with conservative tactics.

The difference in the early going was 6-6 center Ron Regier, who used his height to good advantage on offense with 10 of his 19 points in the first half.

That and some corner sniping by Erland Bergan enabled the Huskies to move ahead 14-9 at the quarter and 25-15 at the intermission.

Only thing keeping Clarkson in contention at this point was the shooting of Bill Travnick, who had 10 of the 15 first half points.

Henderson hiked its advantage to 33-19 early in the third quarter—best offensive period for either team—but the Red Devils battled back to trail by only 41-32 heading into the final quarter.

Then Bergan, Stuart Friesen and Dan Traudt went into a clever ball-handling act that stifled any hopes that Clarkson had.

The stalling game resulted in a 6-3 advantage for the Huskies in the last quarter, four of those points coming in the last 40 seconds.

Travnick finished with 14 points to lead Clarkson, followed by Rich Kucera with 7. Kucera (6-11), saddled with the job of watching Regier, turned in a good defensive job for the losers.

Clarkson's press was thwarted by Friesen, who sifted through the defenders time and time again to get the ball safely upcourt.

Clarkson bowed from the tourney trail with a 17-8 record.

POSTCARD

by

Steamboat Springs is where Mrs. Sandy Bowers took in washing. The springs are half-way between glittering Reno and the ghost town of Virginia City where the Comstock miners dug out $750 million in rich silver.

A little further up the road is the stylish Bowers mansion. It is a historical landmark. A Georgian type house, set in a grove of poplars with the snowy Sierra rising steeply above.

Unfortunately, Nevada has put a couple of frame houses in front of it—I imagine where the caretaker lives and sells tickets to see the elegance that was Mrs. Bowers.

Anyway, it cuts off the way you should see the house. Standing alone. Stiff and proud as Mrs. Bowers must have been herself.

You come upon the mansion across the grey-green Washoe flats. Sagebrush flats. There is a fine smell of tangy sage in the air.

Why Mrs. Bowers built down here I don't know. Virginia City was the boomtown and held the elegant homes of the silver millionaires—until they moved to more opulent mansions by the Golden Gate.

Anyway, it must have been a dream house for the washerwoman of Steamboat Springs.

In the year 1859, while Mrs. Bowers washed miners' kinks in the puffing hot water of the springs, Sandy Bowers was in the hills with pick and mining pan.

It was in this historic year that a whiskey prospector known as "Old Pancake" Comstock took a look in the glory hole and announced: "Boys, we have struck it rich!"

If Old Pancake did not say it that way, he should have. For that is the way to announce a strike in a bonanza that made millionaires out of saloon keepers.

Sandy Bowers had a piece of this incredible fortune. History is a little hazy on what he did with it.

Presumably he celebrated fortune with imported oysters and rifle whiskey.

This being about the extent of gourmet imagination for those first millionaires on the Comstock.

Mrs. Bowers took her hands out of the soapuds. She built the mansion down on the sagebrush flats. She edged it with English Ivy which soon covered the house to match her social ambitions.

For some reason, Mrs. Bowers gave the legal leave-to to Sandy. He disappeared behind the convivial glasses of Virginia City.

Merry England was the goal of the rich Mrs. Bowers. (Note the house of English Ivy.)

The social tone of the Washoe flats must have been cramping to a lady of taste. The silver millionaires ran to marble fireplaces and gilt cuspidors.

In England, the social graces were upheld by long strings of Dukes and Duchesses, Milords and Miladies. And Mrs. Bowers yearned for this cultural foxhole with all her heart.

She set sail for England. And they say it was her great desire to be presented to Queen Victoria.

But the rules of English royalty provide certain restrictions on divorced persons. (Divorcees are not allowed inside the Royal enclosure at Ascot.)

Queen Victoria would not meet the silvered lady of the Washoe.

Mrs. Bowers returned to her mansion on the grey-green flats.

She ripped out the English Ivy. And to be sure it did not volunteer again, she poured boiling water on the roots.

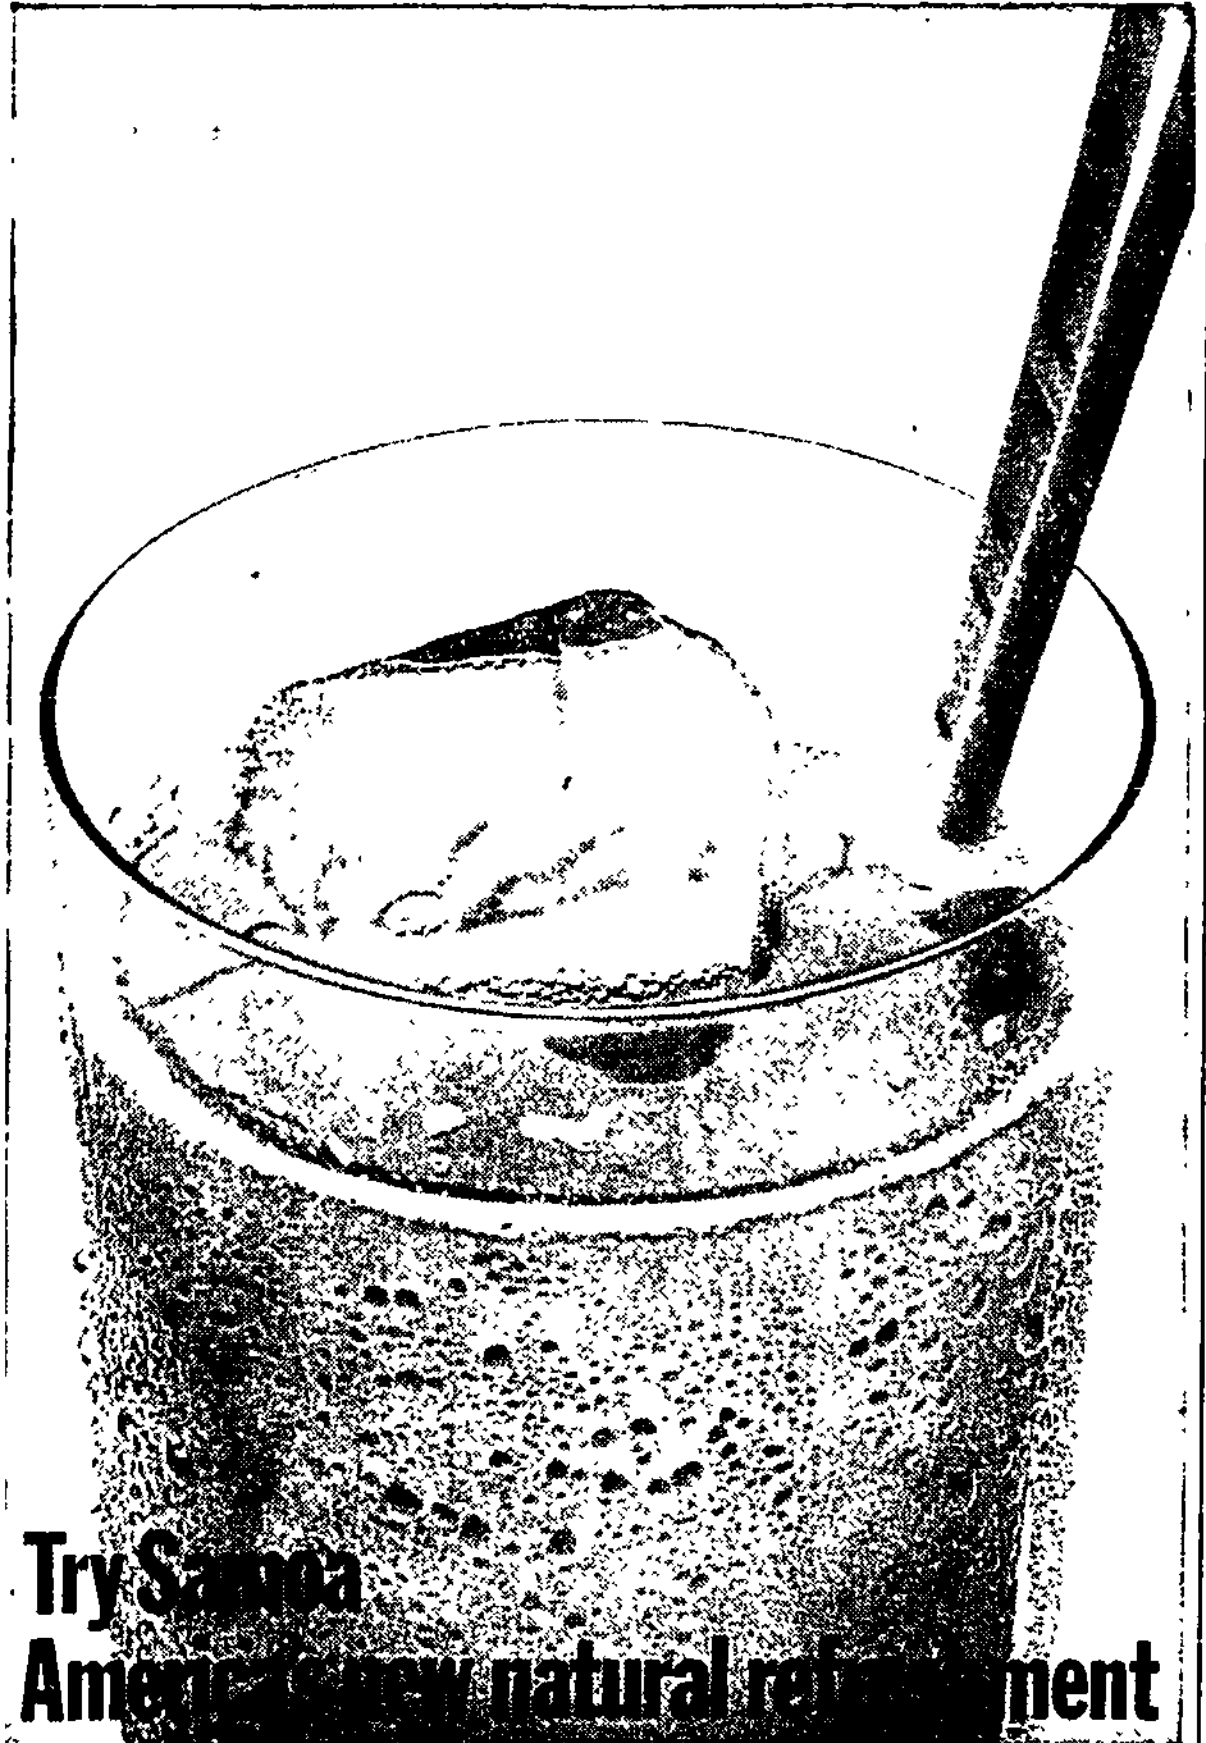

She began in hot water and wound up in hot water.

And the Bowers mansion stands there today. Its wall untouched by even a sprig of English ivy green.

New Agency, Bigger Budget Needed To Combat Poverty

Washington (AP) — A new federal agency will be created to mobilize the nation for President Johnson's war on poverty, a high source said Thursday, and the struggle will cost almost twice what originally was estimated.

The new agency will be called the National Opportunities Administration or some similar title. Its creation is certain to stir criticism from Republicans that Johnson is harking back to the New Deal days of WPA, PWA and make-work jobs as the nation tried to struggle out of the depression of the 1930s.

The President's message on poverty is reported to be in the final drafting stages. It is expected to be ready for Congress early next week, probably on Monday. The White House would say only that it would not be available Thursday.

Constant Changes
Changes in the program, mostly in details, reportedly are being made constantly and likely will be made until it goes to Congress.

Sargent Shriver, presidential aide in charge of the poverty program, originally estimated it would be ready three weeks ago, but the complexity of the project, and the many viewpoints involved, apparently delayed its completion.

In addition to creation of the new agency, the source said, other key features of the program include:

—A total cost in new authorization of nearly $940 million for the first year. Original estimates called for a five-year, $5-billion program, with $500 million each year coming from existing programs and $500 million in new authorization. The additional cost reportedly will be taken from existing programs, so that the budget total won't be increased.

—A new concept of federal grants to local communities, where local authorities have drafted plans utilizing every community resource in wiping out pockets of poverty.

—A Youth Conservation Corps, similar to the proposal now pending in Congress, to give job training and education to youths who flunk Selective Service examinations or lack sufficient education to hold a job.

Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, will head the new agency. It wasn't immediately known whether he will continue to hold down his Peace Corps job as well once the poverty program gets underway.

Cabinet Rank
The personable 48-year-old brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy has been given Cabinet rank by Johnson in order to have enough authority to resolve the bureaucratic tug-of-war involved in the poverty program.

The basic problem has been resolving conflicting viewpoints and getting cooperation of agencies who may feel their authority has been by-passed in setting up the program.

An example of this conflict in viewpoints comes from the Welfare Department, where officials want to start the program slowly, on a pilot basis, then examine it before jumping in with a large operation.

Other top members of Shriver's task force, a source said, want to start with a crash program to get quick results in this election year. The source added:

"Welfare wants to go about it with a spoon, while some of Shriver's advisers want to use a shovel."

Dark Spots Led MDs To Suspect Gangrene

Guayaquil, Ecuador (AP)—The appearance of dark spots on the dead man's hand transplanted three weeks ago to the injured right arm of Navy Petty Officer Julio Luna led some physicians Thursday to suspect gangrene.

The 32-year-old sailor lost his right hand in a grenade explosion Feb. 13.

The Ecuadorian navy finally granted permission for Luna to fly to Boston for follow-up treatment at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. It first refused to let him leave.

Four of the examining surgeons opposed the trip in the belief that Luna's new hand showed evidence of gangrene. If so, amputation might be necessary.

Two Boston consultants in the case, Dr. Richard E. Wilson and Dr. Robert M. Goldwyn, had anticipated the appearance of the dark spots when they visited here last month. They said the dark spots might seem to be gangrenous, but was part of the healing process.

Luna at that time was able to move the hand and wiggle the fingers.

The hand came from Enrique Luna Alvarez, 42, who died in a hospital shortly after Luna was brought in. The transplant was accomplished in a 15-hour operation by a team headed by Dr. Roberto Gilbert.

Britishers Call It Pitiful Girls Don't Slap Swains

London, Friday (AP) — The slap in the face for a young man making unwelcome advances to a girl appears to have become unfashionable, a committee on British sex problems commented today.

It said sex education in Britain is totally inadequate and revision absolutely necessary. The group — made up of doctors, religious leaders and social workers and working as a committee for the British Medical Association — said a modern girl's freedom in her relationships meant that at 15 she often found herself in situations which would tax a woman of 30, and with neither wisdom nor experience to handle.

"It's A Pity"
"In times past, for instance, many a young girl put a stop to a young man's unwelcome advances by slapping his face," the committee's report said. "If, as we believe, this more or less conventional and usually effective response has become unfashionable, it is a pity."

The committee advocated a concerted campaign to cope with the problems of venereal disease among persons under 25.

Its report, published today, talks to teenagers who have sexual intercourse "for kicks" or because they are afraid of being thought "chicken" by others in their particular gang.

The committee blamed a general moral breakdown on changed standards (in which a girl might think sexual intercourse was repayment for an evening out with the boy friend), in the breakdown of old conventions, availability of contraceptives, erotic advertisements, television, dance halls and effects of alcohol.

Imponderable Bomb
The committee found it hard to decide how far the threat of the nuclear bomb might be to blame for moral laxity.

The report continued: "Evidence from young people themselves, from social workers, doctors, police and probation officers and others closely concerned with the young, makes it clear that premarital and extramarital sexual intercourse is now common."

"Our witness, who has made a special study of young people's behavior, particularly that of university students, even expressed the view that promiscuity had become fashionable during the last seven years."

The report said two of every three babies born to girls under 20 in Britain were conceived out of wedlock.

Doctor, Daughter Found Fatally Shot

Paris (AP) — Police reported Thursday an elderly doctor and his daughter had been shot to death in their suburban Boulogne home. A search for the slayer is under way.

Dr. Louis Jarty, 76, and his daughter, Francoise, 16, were found dead by Mrs. Jarty, a dental surgeon. She was returning home after spending the night with her mother. Closets and drawers in the room had been searched, indicating robbery may have been a motive.

Deadly Storm Moves On

... LEAVING SCARS OF DESTRUCTION

By The Associated Press
A storm with a roundhouse punch blamed for at least 12 deaths swung into Canada east of Michigan Thursday, leaving scars of destruction in Midwestern and Southern states.

The storm, reported to have hit a 100-mile-per-hour clip over Findlay, Ohio, spun off a dozen tornadoes and dropped heavy rains and snow.

In its parting impact the storm hit Detroit with 75 m.p.h. winds, snapping a power cable in the city, and sent eight persons to hospitals with injuries.

30 Inches On Ground
At Kitcheloe Air Force Base, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., it shook down seven inches of new snow, bringing the depth on the ground to 30 inches.

Along its curving path, Peewee, Wis., collected 14 inches of snow and Paducah, Ky., seven inches of rain.

Widespread fog and smog formed a cloak for the storm. The fog cleared from the Midwest after the storm passed, but kept its clutches on New York City. The pea-souper forced the plane of President Johnson to shift its landing from Kennedy Airport on Long Island to Newark, N.J., when Johnson flew from Washington to attend the funeral of the New York mayor's wife, Mrs. Robert F. Wagner.

Fronts Collided
The Weather Bureau said both fog and the drastic storm effects resulted from collision of a sharp cold front with unusually moist air flow from the Gulf of Mexico.

The two currents met first in Missouri and Arkansas, then collided in a rolling crash along a curving line up through Illinois and lower Michigan.

To the north and west of this arc, the driving winds brought rain which turned into heavy snow with sharply falling temperatures. To the south, it was wind and rain, but with massive thunderstorm buildup. Tornadoes killed three persons in Kentucky, and one each in Arkansas and Tennessee. In Arkansas a lightning bolt started a house fire at Forrest City, killing seven persons.

The winds smashed down power lines in a dozen communities, tipped over television and radio antennas, and splintered many homes as the tornado churned in Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The rains caused some severe local flooding in Ohio Valley communities. The storm loosed 70 m.p.h. winds and heavy rains as far as western Pennsylvania where some streams went over flood stage.

Consumers 'Doesn't Want Battle Of Words With City'

Consumers Public Power District President Frederick Wagener of Lincoln Thursday said CPPD "is not desirous of establishing an atmosphere of conflict with the City of Lincoln."

In a prepared statement, Wagener continued: "This is the last thing we want. We don't believe we ought to engage in a battle of words in the press before the public. It's not our desire to stir up animosities.

"We are interested in seeing if we can negotiate with the city, and if we can't, we might just as well find out."

"Further, the attitude the mayor is taking in the press doesn't appear to me to be adding anything to a peaceful and amicable solution to this Lincoln problem."

Negotiators from Consumers and the city are scheduled to meet Saturday at 10 a.m. in the mayor's office.

Under discussion will be Lincoln's proposed operation or acquisition of CPPD's Lincoln distribution system.

Hughes Will Stay Out Of Parker Case

Des Moines (UPI) — Gov. Harold E. Hughes said Thursday he has no intention of getting involved in Nebraska's Darrel Parker murder case or the controversy over the license of an Iowa private detective who has taken an active interest in the matter.

Hughes told his news conference Thursday that Parker's parents and Ralph L. Peterson, Red Oak, called on him Wednesday during the governor's weekly "open door" program during which he visits for five minutes with anyone who stops in to see him.

Hughes said Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parker, Henderson, and Peterson made no specific requests of him and the discussion was mostly about Peterson, whose private detective's license is under question.

Iowa Public Safety Commissioner William Saeppel has not yet handed down a decision on the renewal of the license. Saeppel held a hearing on January on Peterson's renewal application because the state commissioner said he had received information which "questions Peterson's suitability" to have the license.

Evans Given Life Term In Davis Slaying

Portland, Ore. (UPI) — Robert Joseph Evans, 27, Thursday was found guilty of first degree murder in the slaying last August of Idaho cattle heiress Irene Davis, 41, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Circuit Judge Herbert Schwab, who heard the conclusion of the case without a jury after Evans entered a guilty plea earlier this week, commented it was a "vicious, heinous crime."

The judge had the choice of finding Evans guilty of first degree murder, second degree murder or manslaughter.

Evans was arrested in Fremont, Neb., and returned to Portland for trial. He is a former Honolulu, Hawaii, garage mechanic.

Picture Book On State Set For Centennial

The Nebraska Historical Society has been authorized by the Nebraska Centennial Commission to begin preparing copy for a Nebraska centennial pictorial history book.

The proposed volume would lean heavily on historical pictures and would be circulated and sold under the direction of the Centennial Commission.

Any financial commitments involved in publication of the volume will become subject to approval of the full Centennial Commission under terms of a resolution approved by the commission at a Lincoln meeting Tuesday.

Kansas published such a volume in connection with its centennial and sold it for $8.95 per copy, the commission was told. Kansas printed 5,500 copies and sold 4,000 but blamed the incomplete sale on inadequate promotion.

Historical Society Director Marvin Kivett said the society will use pictures from its own files and prepare the textual matter up to the point of publication. He said this is a proper function of the society and the work could be done by the regular staff.

Sale of the books would be expected to cover the entire cost of publication.

THE WIND DID IT ... leaving John Mirabella of Rochester, N.Y., a driving problem.

Thant Favors Indian For Cyprus Mission

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — An Indian soldier skilled in cooling off hot heads was reliably reported Thursday to be Secretary-General U Thant's choice for commander of the U.N. peace force to be sent to Cyprus. He is Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani, 52, already on the scene.

The No. 1 candidate for mediator was said to be Jose Rolz-Bennett, 46, Guatemalan who has acted previously as a troubleshooter for the United Nations. He is Thant's deputy chief of cabinet at U.N. headquarters.

Thant was given authority by the Security Council Wednesday to assemble a peace force and name a commander, and also to consult with representatives of Cyprus, Britain, Greece and Turkey on a mediator.

Representative Gyani has been in Cyprus for almost seven weeks as Thant's personal representative. He was commander for four years of the 5,000-man U.N. emergency force on the Sinai Desert frontier between

City Crime Rise Under U.S. Rate

Crime in Lincoln rose 2.8% over 1962. In the seven classifications set down by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in its annual Uniform Crime Report, while crime throughout the nation in cities the size of Lincoln rose 10%.

Dut Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll said, "In making a comparison between 1963 and 1962 in Lincoln, it must be taken into consideration that, with the annexation of land to the city limits in June of 1962, the total city area increased from 25.94 square miles to 29.94 square miles, an increase of 15.2%.

"An additional annexation to the city limits the latter part of 1963 brings our present total city area to 34.8 square miles, an increased coverage of 34.3% over the total area at the end of May, 1962."

Naturally follows Carroll said that with the growth of a city, the increase of crime naturally follows. The report included the following figures (1963 listed first, 1962 second):

Murder, two, one, up 100%; forcible rape, 13, 9, up 44%; robberies, 12, 10, down 18%; aggravated assault, 50, 59, down 15%; burglaries, 396, 416, down 4.8%; larceny $50 and over, 414, 351, up 17%; auto thefts, 119, 123, down 3%.

Crimes in the seven categories totaled 1,007, compared with 978 in 1962.

Crime in Omaha rose 8% in 1963, or 2% below the national average.

Lincoln's 1963 totals were well below those for other cities in the same population grouping across the country. In 76 other cities in Lincoln's population grouping (100,000 to 250,000) murder rose 6%; forcible rape rose 10%; robbery rose 13%; aggravated assault rose 6%; burglary rose 8%; larceny ($50 and over) rose 13%; and auto theft rose 12%, for an overall increase of 10%.

Murder Up 1% In figures for cities of all populations, murder increased 1%; forcible rape showed no change from the 1962 total; robbery increased 5%; aggravated assault increased 8%; burglary increased 9%; larceny of $50 and over increased 11%; and auto theft increased 11%.

The preliminary figures showed a rise of 3% in the number of all criminal arrests (traffic included), with arrests of adults increasing 2%, and arrests of offenders under 18 years of age increasing 13%.

Nebraska Vying For Beet Plant

... 2 New Factories Planned

Washington (AP) — The Agriculture Department is weighing applications of 21 areas, including Nebraska, for a sugar beet acreage allotment sufficient to warrant the establishment of new sugar beet processing factories.

The allotments would become effective for 1966 and subsequent crops.

The acreage remaining to be allowed under provisions of sugar control legislation is sufficient, officials said, to justify only two additional plants. Thus 19 of the 21 areas seeking allotments — and seeking a new plant — are doomed to disappointment.

Officials said a decision on which two applications will be accepted is a matter of weeks away. They are studying the various applications, their plans for establishing plants

Mrs. Miller Files $303,342 Suit In Fatal Accident

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Donna Lee Miller, 29, of Fremont, is suing in Douglas County District Court for $303,342 damages as a result of an auto-truck accident near Valley in which her husband was killed and she was injured.

One suit for $203,342.50 was filed in behalf of her late husband, James W. Miller, and another seeks $100,000 for Mrs. Miller. The suits are against Ronald Savick of Valley. The suits contend that Savick stopped his truck suddenly, causing a semi-trailer to jack-knife and hit the Miller car.

The accident was at the intersection of U.S. 275 and Nebraska 64 on July 1 of 1962.

Bushman Bids Low On Unit At Ainsworth

By the Associated Press

The Bureau of Reclamation advised Nebraska senators Thursday that a $1,354,283 contract for constructing an irrigation lateral and drainage systems to serve the second section of the Ainsworth Unit has been awarded.

In Grand Island, Neb., the Niobrara Lower Platte projects office of the Bureau of Reclamation said confirmation of the award had not yet been received but Bushman Construction Co., St. Joseph, Mo., was low bidder on the project.

The contract calls for excavation and construction of approximately 40 miles of laterals, wasteways and associated structures, the announcement from Senators Curtis and Hruska said.

In Minneapolls the Bureau of Sport Fisheries of the Department of Interior, said a general plan clearing the way for managing fish and wildlife resources on 9,498 acres of federal lands and waters at Merritt Reservoir has been agreed upon.

The announcement said the agreement was signed by Melvin O. Steen, director of the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission; and by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

The area will be administered for trout, waterfowl and prairie grouse by the Nebraska game department. Actual management of administration and management will be the subject of an agreement between the Nebraska commission and the Bureau of Reclamation.

Tot's Heart Damage Repaired

Richard Cruz, 6-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Augusto Cruz of Norfolk, pitches a snowball with gusto to show that he is just like any other youngster. Yet only a year ago Richard underwent a four-hour operation to close two holes in his heart. One of the holes was discovered when Richard was three months old, the other when he underwent the operation.

Colwell Will Seek Third District Post

Hay Springs (AP) — William Colwell, Hay Springs farmer and rancher, disclosed Thursday his intention to file for the Democratic nomination for Third District congressional seat.

Colwell sent letters of resignation to three agricultural organizations in which he holds leadership positions.

He resigned as chairman of the governor's public relations committee for agriculture, as president of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association, and as a member of the President's 27-man National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

"In view of my intentions to file as a candidate for Congress from the Third District, I feel it is right that I should resign these positions, even though each has been a fulfilling and rewarding service opportunity," Colwell said.

Colwell sent the letter of resignation from the governor's committee to Gov. Frank Morrison, and addressed his letter resigning from the President's commission to Harry Caldwell of Greensboro, N.C., chairman of the national group.

Colwell has been chairman of the governor's committee for three years, has served on the President's commission for nearly two years, and elected last November.

In the congressional contest, he will be seeking the seat now held by Republican Rep. Dave Martin of Kearney.

In his letter to the governor, Colwell said "one of the most encouraging things in my experience as chairman has been our speaking contest program where several hundred young men and women in our Nebraska schools have developed this topic, and I hope those carrying on the work of the committee continue to work with the youth of our state in upgrading agriculture."

Watch Those Kids!

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — Saigon police have warned American parents to keep a close eye on their teen-age children because of danger of Viet Cong kidnapping, reliable informants said.

$20,000 Okayed For Winnebago

Washington (UPI) — Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall Thursday approved allocation of $1 million in accelerated public works funds for community and urban development projects on 36 Indian reservations and communities in 12 states.

Included was $20,000 for the Winnebago Indian Reservation in Nebraska.

Udall said the overall projects would provide nearly 1,700 man-months of employment for the Indian areas.

Since inception of the program, accelerated public works on Indian reservations have amounted to more than $20 million in total funds spent or obligated.

Liz Finally Gets Divorce

Puerto Vallarta, Mexico (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor was granted a divorce Thursday from Eddie Fisher, clearing the way for her planned marriage to Richard Burton.

Judge Arcadio Estrada ruled that Fisher, by not answering the divorce action filed by Miss Taylor Jan. 14, had "presumably confessed" to her accusation that he abandoned her.

The judge ruled that Miss Taylor should have custody of Lizzy Todd, her daughter by the late Mike Todd, whom Fisher had legally adopted. No mention was made of Miss Taylor's other children.

The judge left unclear the outcome of the long and tangled financial battle between the raven-haired actress and Fisher by declaring that it was impossible to make a financial ruling because no community property existed.

Police Transfer Plans Reversed

Omaha (AP) — Omaha Public Safety Director Chris Gugas said Thursday Police Sergeant Louis Koska will remain on the west squad and Captain Theodore Janing will not be transferred from his internal security post.

Gugas had announced Wednesday the two would be transferred. He said the change in plans came after a talk with Police Chief C. Harold Ostler.

Gugas said the only change in police personnel will be assignment of a lieutenant of Chief Ostler's choice to command the vice squad.

The conference is being held in conjunction with the Midwest Regional American Bar Association meetings which will attract lawyers from Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota and Nebraska.

Continue Hunt For Missing Woman

Fullerton (AP) — Sheriff Forest Williams reported Thursday that searchers have found no trace of Mrs. Hattie Kuper who disappeared from her home early Feb. 27.

Williams said a searching party formed the day of her disappearance found tracks in the snow which led to the bank of the Snow River half a mile south of town.

Diver and boats found nothing in the swiftly moving water.

Wheat Markets To Be Discussed At Export Meet

North Platte (UPI)—Problems and opportunities facing development of more foreign cash markets for U.S. wheat will make up the main part of a "wheat export information" meeting here next Thursday.

Herbert J. Hughes, Imperial, and Carl Bruns, Chappell, will be the featured speakers. Both are members of the Nebraska Wheat Commission.

Pearle Finigan, state agriculture director, will serve as master of ceremonies. More than 100 persons are expected to attend.

Gas At The Fair

New York (UPI)—Natural gas-operated air conditioning equipment will cool 80% of the pavilions at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says. Gas also will do practically all of the heating, cooking and water heating. Old-fashioned and modern gas lights will decorate the Fair walkways.
